Time to Change?

MY FAIR

We all have an imaginary picture of ourselves. A more or less fixed idea of how we should look and what others should see. That's why many of us are so opposed to any change in our appearance — be it of make-up, dress, or hairstyle. This natural resistance often works against us. Haven't you ever wondered to yourself "why does she wear her hair that way?" "Doesn't she know her make-up is wrong?" Or, "hasn't she been told she shouldn't wear slacks?"

"SEBASTIAN"

I am reminded of the woman who, after considerable prodding by her husband and friends, finally agreed to have her hair cut. At long last she became a blond. And looked like she was born that way. Then there was the woman who kept her hair platinum for so long that she forgot what color she actually was. When she let her hair grow out to give it a rest, she discovered the beauty of her natural color. A glorious Auburn.

Caught in a rut
Sometimes a woman adopts a certain mode of dress, hair or make-up which, at the time, seems quite appropriate. Then it becomes a habit. And it remains a habit long after the fashion has changed or the woman has outgrown it.

Another change we often fail to recognize is in beauty technology. Once upon a time, permanents meant regular settings. If you didn't set your hair, you didn't get a permanent. And if your hair was too straight, you just learned to live with it. But all that has changed now. The new perms are for everybody. And you don't need to set them.

I often encounter women with certain set conclusions. "I don't believe in straightening." "I could never wear my hair in bangs." "Blow drying just isn't for me."

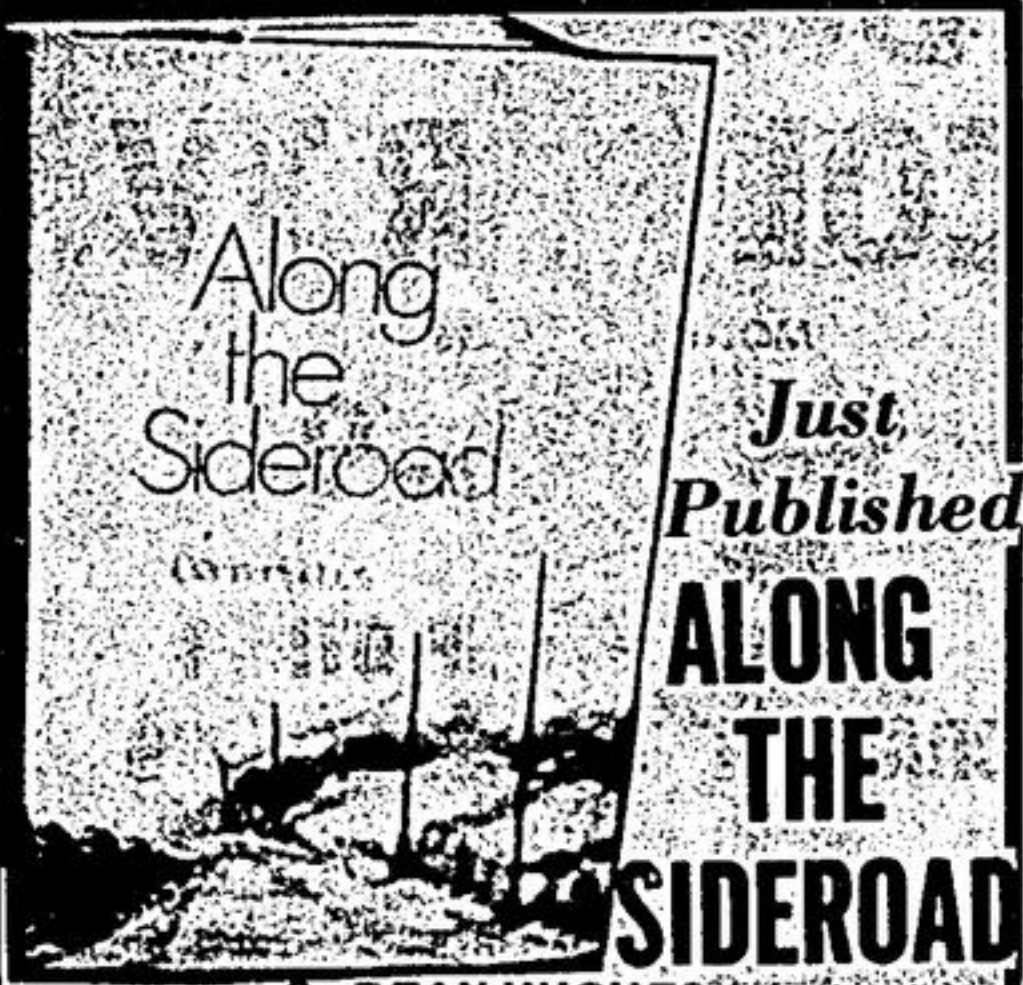

Sometimes these conclusions are well thought out and very sensible. But often enough they are the result of routine. And beauty is a matter of discovery not habit. FROM UNDER THE DRYER: "She says she's smarter than he is; he earns more money than she can spend but she found him."

SCHOOL BELLS BRING TIME ON YOUR HANDS...

GET A PART-TIME JOB WITH A WANT AD!

By DEAN HUGHES

Following the success of his first book, "And so They Bought a Farm", which enjoyed a wide sale in both Canada and England, Dean Hughes has now followed up with "Along the Sideroad". It carries on the story of his first book, a few months after the sale of most of Briarwood Farm. In "Along the Sideroad", readers will find the same good neighbours and the same kind of human interest happenings as in the former book. The farm buildings are still there, the orchard, the creek, the pond and Walter, the hired man, is still there with all his pithy comments on life in general and devotion to Charles and Millie Brewster.

The main departure grows out of the fact that Charles now writes a weekly column on rural life for a big city newspaper. To gather material he tours the Ontario sideroads and digs up some astonishing stories and happenings that will make the reader laugh, gasp, scratch his head and do a lot of chuckling.

The Volkswagen Owner's Security Blanket and you.

While other car makers are busy taking the wraps off their new model cars, Volkswagen has gone one step further and changed the wraps. Nobody in the car business has any plan like it. Nobody seems to care enough. Or do enough: Except Volkswagen.

Our 12 month/20,000 mile guarantee.***

Most car owners drive about 14,000 miles during the first year. So what earthly good is a 12,000 mile guarantee? Volkswagen's coverage is for 20,000 miles — most car companies don't come near that.

This is our guarantee, in plain English:

"If you maintain and service your 1974 Volkswagen as prescribed in the Volkswagen Maintenance Schedule, any factory parts found to be defective in material or workmanship within 12 months or 20,000 miles, whichever comes first (except filters, fluids and lubricants) will be repaired or replaced free of charge by any Canadian or U.S. authorized Volkswagen dealer."

We guarantee against more than just defective parts.

Take things like brake pads and linings. As long as you have them adjusted when your Maintenance Schedule says so, we'll replace them free if they wear out. Some things go for clutch linings and batteries. Even lightbulbs.

24 months/24,000 miles.***

We guarantee the inside of our engine and transmission for two years or 24,000 miles, whichever comes first. Of course we don't cover defects caused by lack of maintenance or abuse.

We guarantee our repairs.

We'll not only make the repair but guarantee the parts and workmanship for an additional 6 months or 6,000 miles. If the repair takes overnight, we'll lend you a car. If you're a qualified owner and you find that a warranty repair is going to take overnight, we'll lend you a free car by appointment, for as long as the repair takes.

Express care.

With Express Care if we can fix something in less than 30 minutes, we'll do it while you wait. There's no appointment needed for these little repairs.

Free Electronic check-ups.

Electronic Analysis can spot things that even a master mechanic might not see. So we can fix these things while you're still covered by our Owner's Security Blanket.

We're in this together.

We made the car. You own the car. So we're in this together. As long as you maintain your new Volkswagen properly, we'll do most of the worrying for you. That's what Volkswagen's Owner's Security Blanket is all about — once you're a Volkswagen Owner, we're not going to leave you out in the cold.

*All of the terms of this warranty are clearly defined in the owner's manual and will be explained by any authorized Volkswagen dealer in Canada.
