Fight with weather all the way

by A.A. Wall
Crops are doing some catching up these days. Heat is great for the corn and if it keeps on most of it will have a good chance to mature well enough before frost.

It's a crucial time now for barley and wheat.

Farmers are happy to see the end of the first crop of hay. It was a fight with the weather all the way and the feed quality will be affected by the delay in harvesting.

The system has a lot of good features. It's a one-man operation, it's about three times faster than a square baler, twine costs are only about a third of normal, and there is no hand lifting. Somebody still has to work out a way to feed them in a stanchion barn!

Being up to date in livestock breeding these days means using a sire that has a proven ability to grow much faster than the average. Sheep are no exception. Nearly 50 rams are being sold at a sale at the Shur-Gain Research Farm on Saturday, July 27. All are tested for rate of gain, and all of them made at least 6 lbs. per day. This takes a lot of the guessing out of picking a good ram.

I had an interesting visit to a farm in this area last week where over 100 acres had been baled into 1800 lb. bales. The bales are stored outside, picked up as needed by tractor and bucket, and fed in an outside yard.

A statement from the board last week said there are "serious inconsistencies" between facts presented to the board and those presented by a delegation from the secondary school teachers.

Three members of the OSSTF, Dist. 11 executive said that board administrators disregarded teacher input when filling teaching positions in the region.

They cited four instances concerning Stephen Bacsalmasi, superintendent of planning and development, which they thought were impersonal practices.

The board's statement requests that the Dist. 11 executive meet with the administrators involved and present a joint report to the board in September.

Teacher input disregarded

AURORA— Teacher representatives and board staff will meet to thrash out complaints made by the teachers last month, that "unilateral administrative decisions" are still being made.

RICHMOND HILL INTO AN ### INCORPORATED VILLAGE,

Under the statute in such case made and provided, by which the undersigned was appointed Returning Officer, to hold the first election; public notice is hereby given to all whom it may concern, that a meeting of the duly qualified electors of the Incorporated Village of Richmond Hill will be held in the Public Hall, in which the Third Division Court of the County of York is held, in the said village, at noon, on the last Monday but one in the current month of December (being the 23rd instant), for the nomination of candidates for the offices of Reeve and four Councillors, for the said Incorporated Village.

M. THEFFY,
RETURNING OFFICER.

RICHMOND HILL, December 14, 1872.

DID YOU KNOW...

in 1872, the year in which Robert Simpson came from the nearby Newmarket area to establish his store in Toronto, the community of Richmond Hill was incorporated as a Village? The incorporation was on June 19, and the nomination of a Reeve and four Councillors was called for December 23 of that year, with election in 1873, so that Richmond Hill marked its Centennial in 1973!

and did you know...

that Simpsons Hillcrest Mall will open in Richmond Hill, at Yonge Street and Carville Road, on Thursday, August 8. Come to the opening... we'll pin a rose on you!
