

Mrs. Lloyd Johnston, an early promoter of the hand-weaving class operating at the Greenwood Recreation Centre, is shown here working at the loom. Mrs. Johnston, who has two hand-woven suits and three rugs, describes herself, as, "still learning."

Senior craft group to expand

GREENWOOD — A craft program run by a Whitevale senior citizens group has proven so successful it will be expanded in the fall.

The program run by Green and White Crafts was launched by the Whitevale Good Neighbors Club and has received a Federal government grant under the New Horizons Program.

The first program was run on Tuesdays and Thursdays in Recreation Centre in Greenwood and finished up last week. Ten ladies learned the art of hand weaving.

Classes have been full to date, with instruction provided by Carrie Oliphant and Ellen Beth Hobbs, both of Pickering. One prime enthusiast of the program is Mrs. Lloyd Johnston who told the Tribune modestly that she is still learning. She has completed two hand-woven suits and three rugs.

"You never reach the point where you know it all," she said. "It's a wonderful hobby for anyone young or old."

A loom costs something over $75 and several ladies have purchased looms and work at home.

Only one man takes part in the classes. Rev. Tom Fleetham, pastor of the Greenwood United Church, is trying his hand at it.

"Men make beautiful weavers and we want to enlist more of them," Mrs. Johnston said.

Ladies enrolled in the first class include: Mary White, Rachel Griffin, Mrs. Syd Pugh, Mrs. Joe Garland, Doreen Middleton, Irma Lawrence, Hilda Faulkner, Mrs. Hugh Crawford and Mrs. Johnston.

During August the teachers will be on vacation but a new class starts Sept. 5. Also planned are evening classes in furniture refinishing and upholstery.

A display of work done by the craft class will be seen during the Field Day planned for the Greenwood Community Park Aug. 10. The craft room will be opened from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Nursery school is dream come true

STOUFFVILLE — For Norah McElroy, the opening of the Stouffville Nursery School Sept. 3 will be a dream come true. She has been working to establish the nursery school, last week received formal approval from Whitechurch Stouffville Council.

It will be in the basement of St. James' Presbyterian Church. Mrs. McElroy is taking applications now for the fall, and will be having an open house Thursday

Aug. 8 (today) from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

There will be coffee for the adults and juice and other goodies for the youngsters. The school is open to children from 2½ to 5 years old and will feature five half-day sessions each week. The cost is $40 a month.

Registrations are open now for the school. Those interested may call 640-5402 or 640-5990 or go to Mrs. McElroy's house at 35 Blake St.

Police investigate hit-run fatality

JACKSON'S POINT — Ontario Provincial Police at Oak Ridges and Sibbald Point Park are conducting an intensive investigation into a hit-and-run death of 18 year old Holly Starkes at the park July 12.

She was struck from behind while walking on a park road at approximately 11:15 p.m. and died three hours later at York County Hospital in Newmarket.

The wanted vehicle is believed to be a 1964 to 1968 Ford, turquoise in color, which would have damage to the front.

Anyone with information regarding the vehicle or the accident is asked to call the nearest OPP detachment.
