The Learnings Gospel group at Stouffville plaza

STOUFFVILLE - The "Learnings" - formerly of Goodwood and now recording in Nashville, Tenn. will be part of the double bill at an open air Gospel concert at Stouffville Plaza Saturday Aug. 27.

The family lived in Goodwood some years ago before moving to the United States. Sam and Viv Learning are former country music entertainers and appeared on the Smiley Burnett Show, The Wilf Carter Show and the Wheeling Jamboree.

In 1954 they were converted to Christ and since that time have devoted their talents to serving Him. Together with their two daughters, Sharon and Sandy, they live and travel continually in their "Gospel Motor Home."

The Learnings have sung the Gospel on the famous Grand Ole Opry stage in Nashville and have appeared on the Sunday Night Grand Ole Gospel at the new Opryland.

The family has also performed on Global TV's "Gospel Singing Time" and on such programs as Crossroads, Faith and Music and the Ralph Emery Show in Nashville.

The family has written a number of its own songs and their repertoire includes guitars, electric bass, piano, violin and drums in concerts and revival meetings.

Family and country Gospel is sung by the whole family with the girls providing contemporary music to provide "something for the whole family," according to Mr. Learning.

One of Mrs. Learning's songs, "Praise God for His Wonderful Love" has become well-known throughout the U.S. and has been recorded by other Gospel groups. The Learning's record on the Mission label.

According to a press release: "their singing is spiritual, uplifting and alive with the presence of Jesus," and Mr. Learning preaches with power and conviction.

"This is family Gospel!" the press release stated. "The entire family is involved in the Gospel of Jesus"
