Up, up and away went scores of balloons last Sunday at the Christ Anglican Church, as part of the "Share Day" outreach service. Scripture verses and the Church's name and address were attached to the helium-filled balloons, which were let loose by congregation members to scatter to the four winds. Program organizer Margaret Britton reported to The Tribune that the first balloon was found about 170 miles away in Cobden, Ontario, near Pembroke, about five hours later. Six year old David Coulas of Cobden was riding his bicycle along the road and found the balloon, and his father phoned Mrs. Britton.

Home remedy

STOUFFVILLE - Stouffville philanthropist Arthur Latcham recently celebrated his 80th birthday, but most people are amazed at his youthful appearance.
The formula is contained in a book entitled "Folk Medicine" by D. C. Jarvis. The book explains the apple cider vinegar and honey and other natural cures.
When it first came out, Mr. Latcham tried the mixture and found that it worked for him. He brought 28,500 copies of the book and started giving them away.
He has a few hundred left. Anyone wishing a copy of the book, can pick one up at The Tribune office.
