

Clyde Gray, who resides in Claremont, lost in his bid for the world welterweight boxing title on Saturday night to Angel Espada in San Juan, Puerto Rico. The deciding factor in the fight was a wide gash that developed over Gray's right eye in the fourth round. The illustration above was drawn by Steve Skyvington, a local artist who is currently working on a sports mural for the SDSS gymnasium wall.

Lawn bowling underway

STOUFFVILLE — Margaret Baker and another active season has commenced for the Stouffville lawn bowling Club. At a recent mixed doubles tournament in Stouffville, several local pairs emerged as winners. They included Dorothy Wagg and Stewart Blizzard of Stouffville, high for three games; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Watts of Newmarket, second high for three games; Reta Laushway and Don Bacon of Stouffville, high for three games. Tied for high for one game were Agnes Wallace and Bruce Armstrong of Stouffville and

Local junior C team definitely approved

STOUFFVILLE — fund-raising dance for the W.S.M.H.A. will take place at the arena featuring both square and round dancing and Frank Barkey acting as caller. Stouffville will indeed have junior C hockey next fall. The team was definitely approved by the OHA in a recent decision.

Serving as manager for the new team will be Ken Roberts of Harold Ave. Other posts have not been filled yet.

The team will be operated by the Whit church-Stouffville Minor Hockey Association.

As to which grouping the Stouffville team will be a part of this fall, W.S.M.H.A. secretary Jack Watson said that the decision has not yet been made. He added that they would like to be in the group playing Lindsay, Port Perry and Frankfort.

Dance, dinner to come

In other hockey news, the local OMHA juveniles all-Ontario champions, will be honored on August 8 with a banquet at the arena. At the same time, the IGA 'pee-wee' squad who were provincial runners-up, will be honored as well.

Many of the juveniles will make up the junior C team in Stouffville this fall.
