Police said Nichols went to their apartment and got into a fight with the boyfriend, then returned home when the police were called. ## Councillor irked over complaints

STOUFFVILLE
 Councillor June Button is getting a little tired of hearing about problems with the town's recently instituted garbage pickup.

At the conclusion of a recent Planning Committee meeting, Mrs. Button revealed that she had been called to the telephone during the meeting by a local resident. The complaint involved the failure of the town contractor to pick up garbage.

"He says he's going to bring it down here for us to take care of," said councillor Button. "I don't know what we can do. It's getting ridiculous, the number of complaints we're getting over this."

Other councillors appeared to agree, and passed a motion by councillor Cathy Joyce that the town Administrator be asked to look into the complaint and take remedial action.
