Not many women can match the record of Annie Woolhead, 86, a resident at Brierbush Hospital. Mrs. Woolhead has 115 living descendants. She has eight children, 35 grandchildren, 66 great grandchildren and six great great grandchildren. Shown here are five generations. Mrs. Woolhead is seated in the centre. Her daughter Mrs. George Francis, R.R. 2, Markham is at left, while her son James Francis stands behind. At right is Joyce Delaney holding Diana Lynne, the fifth generation. —George Ross

Parkview News Residents eagerly await the magazine

Well, we are now into the month of February, and it is time for Parkview's Magazine to emerge again. This had been a fairly new venture in the Home for them to have their own magazine to which they contribute articles themselves is quite something for the residents. They eagerly await the first of the month in the hope that it will be ready by then.

Things have been continuing much the same during the last weeks, and the Art classes are still continuing, well supported by residents and "off duty" staff.

Last Wednesday was Birthday party day, for those who had their birthdays in January. We would like to thank those from the Anglican church in Stouffville, who made it a very enjoyable day, and at the same time offer our congratulations to: Mrs. Stotesbury, Mrs. De Geer, and Miss Pfohl who celebrated their birthdays last month.

Thursday evening at the Home proved to be an very interesting one this week. For a change some of the Residents of the Home took part in the informal get together, led and arranged by Miss Grace Ramer, the Adjutant of Parkview. She had Mr. E. Good and his grandchildren taking part, Mr. S. Braley giving a little talk, Mr. Whitmore reciting some of Shakespeare and Mr. Willis Hoover playing the organ. The residents were very well entertained and responded really well to those who took part.

We would like to thank Rev. Don Pugh of Altona Missionary Church for ministering the Word of God on Sunday evening, and Mrs. Edith Lewis for sharing in song.

Dinner to honor centre founder
MARKHAM — Rev. Donald Parr, one of the early supporters of the Markham and Dist. Family Life Centre, will be honored Thursday, Feb. 12.

Rev. Parr is pastor of St. Andrew's United Church. A dinner in his honor will be held at St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church in Markham.

He will receive a plaque testifying to his public spirit and organizational ability in setting up the centre that, according to a press release, "has helped and continues to help countless families in this community."

Support found to expand regional committee

STOUFFVILLE — A council resolution calling for representation on York Regional Planning Committee has been endorsed by three area municipalities.

King, East Gwillimbury, and Markham endorsed the resolution while Newmarket received and filed it. The Town of Vaughan Voted against the motion.

As of yet council has received no reply from the other three area municipalities.

Council passed the resolution on receipt of notice from the Ministry of Housing, advising that the authority to approve plans of subdivision will be handed over to the region.

Whitchurch-Stouffville is not represented on regional planning committee.

Mayor Gordon Ratcliff, who argued against the resolution, on the grounds he doesn't have time to sit on more committees, said he would vote against the resolution if it ever came up at the region.

Mayor Ratcliff is the town's only representative on regional council.

Christian school meeting planned

STOUFFVILLE — The planning, to establish a Christian school in the area, is well underway. To that end a public meeting will be held Thursday, Feb. 19 at the Parkside Youth Centre.

Steering committee chairman David Barker said the meeting is being called to present a progress report and to solicit increased support from the community.

As well as the main steering committee, an education subcommittee has been formed which includes professional educators in the public and Christian schools.

Handicapped people seek recognition

STOUFFVILLE — Handicapped people can play a useful role in the community.

That was the theme of a meeting recently in Richmond Hill. The meeting heard Norah Love of the March of Dimes tell how handicapped people are often too timid to take an active part in the community.

Lack of acceptance by the non-handicapped is also a problem she said. To foster better understanding and to find ways of integration into society, at least one handicapped person in this area wants to form a local group.

Margaret Gibbons, of Musselman's Lake, feels that local handicapped people would benefit from forming a local group associated with the March of Dimes.

Those who are interested in forming such a group should contact Mrs. Gibbons at her work — 640-1237 or at home — 640-3160.

Ontario has a new "Seat Belt Law."

This is what you should know about it.

- The shoulder harness is not part of the system in back seats—and need not be installed.
- It is not illegal to carry more passengers than there are seat belts.
- The driver is responsible for all children aged 2 to 15. All adult passengers, 16 and over are responsible for themselves.

There are exceptions:

- (1) Children under two years of age.
- (2) Persons with a medical exemption certificate from their doctor.
- (3) Delivery personnel driving in their drop-off zone at 25 mph or under.
- (4) Rural mail delivery personnel.
- (5) Convertibles do not require shoulder harness.

The fine for breaking the law is from $20 to $100, plus costs. But life and health are precious, and accidents which cause death or injury to people, or damage to property, cost far more than the fine.

Whether you are a driver or a passenger, from now on you must wear a seat belt. Your Ontario government asks for your co-operation.

Last year, 1,304 people were killed in automobile accidents in Ontario. Another 98,673 were injured.

Many of those deaths and injuries could have been avoided, had the persons involved been wearing seat belts.

That is why, effective January 1, 1976, the use of seat belts became mandatory. In practice, the law is simple:

- You must wear a seat belt and shoulder harness if both are available.
- If your car was manufactured after January 1, 1971, it is illegal to remove the seat belts and they must be in good working order. If seat belts have been removed, they must be replaced.
- Seat belts that are not working must be repaired.
