Milk quotas cut

Dairy farmers face penalties

By A.A. Wall
Agricultural Representative
York Region

Milk quota cuts were reflected in milk cheques this month. The penalty of $8.60 per hundred for milk shipped to the end of May in excess of 18 per cent of a producer's market share quota, was a big loss for those with heavy production in April and May.

The penalty was for two months, of course, and the monthly cut won't be nearly as high from now on. The only solution, however, is either to get more market share quota or sell enough cows to bring shipments back to the quota size. If the total for the dairy year is within the quota, all the penalty money will be returned to the producer.

Details of the Beef Stabilization Program for cow herds were announced last week. Except for dates, it is the same as last year. A herd owner will pay $5.00 per cow, and if the average calf price this fall goes below 50 cents per pound, he will have this deficit made up by the Ontario government.

The number signed up is the number of mature cows owned on June 22. Stabilization payments will be based on an 85 per cent calf crop and an average weight of 450 lbs. The calves can be kept for feeding or sold. Payment is made on the cow herd only — not what happens to the calves.

Those on the program last year will have new applications mailed to them. We will be glad to send information along with the forms to anyone else. Some producers may not like the program, but I think it provides at least some badly needed insurance for a cow-calf operator's income. It involves no controls on cow numbers or how the calf crop is handled and it is voluntary.

With haying well on the way, we can look ahead to some farm activities in July.

Search on for knife-wielder

MARKHAM — Police are searching for the black bearded knife-wielding hold-up man that robbed the Shop-n-Bag store on Wootenway in Markham last Sunday evening.

The man entered the store shortly before closing time, waited for all customers to leave and then threatened the cashier with a knife. He fled with an undetermined sum of money.

The suspect is described as 5'8", in his late twenties, with collar length curly black hair, a full black beard and circles under his eyes.

Premises entered

Delco Tool and Dye Co. in Milliken suffered more than $2,300 of damage when their premises were broken into last week.

Three offices were ransacked, two vending machines broken, and goods stolen.

Indecent assault

A Markham man has been charged with indecent assault following an incident at a bus stop.

According to police the victim got off the Markham bus at Steeles Ave. and Kennedy Rd. and was waiting for the connecting bus when the accused grabbed her. The victim hit him in the face with her purse and he fled. He was subsequently arrested by police.

Gunpoint loan

The Toronto Dominion Bank on Woodbine Ave. in Markham was robbed by a man who only minutes earlier had been discussing a bank loan with the assistant manager.

Shortly after 3 p.m. the man pulled a gun and forced all employees to lay on the floor. He then emptied three tellers cages and fled with $8,388 in cash.

The same man is believed to be responsible for at least four other robberies in the Metro area.

Claremont defeated

STOUFFVILLE — The Claremont midget boys' softball team came away with two wins and two losses in the midget tournament last weekend in Stouffville.

Claremont lost their first game 6-3 to Glenfield Sports Club, but rebounded to defeat East Gwillimbury 3-2 and then blank Unionville 9-0.

The final game was an 18-0 loss at the hands of Stouffville. According to coach Dwight Goden, one factor in the travesty was "about five injured players" for the Claremont squad.

Local racer is second in Formula 100

STOUFFVILLE — Local driver Danny Burritt stands tied for second place in the current Bulova Championship Series for Formula 100 cars. Burritt, with John Scratch of Goderich, has won 32 points to date, putting them both 11 points back of Alex Purdy. The standings will probably change during the next round in the series, to be held July 3 at Mosport.
