

Not many people take their house with them when they move, but that seems to be the case here, as a house in the city becomes a house in the country. The brick structure is being inched along Stouffville Rd.

under police supervision, from its Steeles Ave. and Victoria Park location to a site on the 7th con. in East Gwillimbury. —John Montgomery

Sam Antoni (right) proprietor of Mr. Submarine is shown fabricating one of his concoctions with the aid of his younger brother Bill. The two hail from Cyprus originally but Sam has lived in the area for about three and a half years.

Brothers run take-out shop

STOUFFVILLE — When Sam Antoni, 30, of Main St. was living in Cyprus he little guessed he would someday own and operate a "Mr. Submarine" shop in Stouffville, Ontario.
 Since first arriving in Canada four years ago, Mr. Antoni has done restaurant work. He has been living in Stouffville for three and a half years and decided he "wanted in business," he told The Tribune. "I looked around to see what Stouffville needs," and the only thing missing was a Mr. Submarine. His brother, Bill, 27, who works in the store, took a Toronto training course before coming to work in Stouffville. "The job is nice," says Bill. "Here is better than downtown because we deal with more polite people here."
Official plan may preserve farms
 STOUFFVILLE — Preserving farmland not now in agricultural use may be one of the tenets of a proposed draft of the official plan.
 The section, designated "agricultural reserve" land, would have the effect of "controlling development on Class 1 and Class 2 agricultural land" according to town planner Max Sherman.
