Rural residential zoning requested

STOUFFVILLE - In a letter last week, Clay Clouter of R.R.3, Newmarket asked council to include a proposed change in zoning of property, in Vandorf, in the Whitchurch-Stouffville official He said he had presented an application to change the zoning of replies were told the the land, on the east side 108 compulsory questions of Don Mills Road, lots 17 would be kept conand 18, more than two years ago.

Mr. Clouter requested the land be included in the new official plan under the rural residential designation.

Proposed for the property are 21 two-acre residential lots on 45 acres, and 23 one-acre industrial lots on 20.4 A report from Geo-

Environ Ltd. of Toronto included with the letter states that "adequate supplies of water of suitable quality can be obtained from the ground at depths generally about 100 feet." It added that recharge in the area for the wells should be sufficient and that no pollution of wells from septic tanks should occur if they are adequately
