Weekly Bible study is held at Parkview

Last Monday started off with Rev. Jeffrey taking the weekly Bible study in the auditorium. Those who meet for this study every Monday morning certainly seem to have a good time. This Monday, we will be welcoming Rev. VanderBent back from his vacation (which incidentally, ended up with him having an attack of the flu).

On Thursday afternoon, we had something in the Home which was a little different for Parkview. Because Mrs. Samuel Doner was unable to get out to church to the funeral of her husband, the family thought it would be nice if a short service in his memory could be arranged here in the Home. Many of Sam Doner's friends at Parkview, who otherwise would not have been able to attend the funeral, were able to participate in this service.

Miss Ada-Ramer was responsible for providing the musical variety programme last Thursday evening, and on Sunday evening Rev. Ted Green from the Stouffville Presbyterian Church brought a message to us.

Again we have had many visitors to the Home, a few of whom we will mention: Della Greenwood of Brockville came to visit Mrs. Brander, who has recently come into the Home after a few weeks in hospital. We welcome Mrs. Brander, and trust her stay at Parkview will be very happy. Edward Good from Waterloo, came in to see his father, Mr. E. Good; Lillian Cleland, Janet Richmond and Mrs. R. Park, all of Listowell visited. Mrs. Hamilton; Mrs. Margaret Foster had a surprise visit from her niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Paton. They were on a tour in Canada, from Perth, Scotland, and decided to make a quick call at Parkview. Wayne and Karen Brown of Britt, Ont. came in to see Mrs. Mary Jones and Lloyd and Joy Wagg of Lindsay visited with Dan Wagg.

There were a total of 145 entries in the senior section, entered by 18 exhibitors. The uniformly high quality of all exhibits made the judging, conducted by Cathy Williams of Perma Fleur Florist Supplies, a very difficult task.

Martha Almstedt won a prize for best rose exhibit and she also was awarded most points for the show.

In the junior section, there were 13 entries by four exhibitors. Russel Beaton took the most points for a boy and Wendy Beaton tied with Dianne Vague in the junior girls' category.

A lovely basket created by Pat Beaton was named the most decorative arrangement.

Mrs. Williams, after judging, gave a demonstration on arranging dried plant material, a Christmas wreath and also a Christmas table decoration.

Congratulations to the people who made it to Beaverton Fair with their projects, and especially to John Robertson who came out on top with his Champion Beef Steer.

Well, I guess the 4-H year is pretty well drawing to a close for most members except of course the proud people whose calves have made the gain of 2.1 pounds per day since May, for they will be going to the "Queen's Guineas" to compete later in November.

It has been a good 4-H year, for me anyway. I've learned a lot and I'm sure that you'll agree that you have too. 4-H is a club that makes you proud to be a part of, so if all goes well, I'll see you next year. By all means encourage new members to come out to the meetings because the world needs people like the ones that come out of 4-H Clubs.

I'd like to write a special thanks to John Finlay, the Asst. Agric. Rep. that has helped to keep the South Ontario Beef Club going this past year, by coming to the meetings to teach the lessons and by joining in with the rest of us in our recreational activities.

Another important factor is Bruce Gibson who showed us how to groom our calves so they look their best to the judges. I'm sure that some of his techniques were used by the club members that won prizes at the various fairs in which they exhibited.

And last but certainly not least, Art Richardson, our club leader. He really helped the club in organizing transportation for the calves and members to the fairs and Achievement Day that took place during the club year. One thing that I couldn't help notice about him is that whatever club activity or just anything we were doing, he was right there to help any of us that had any troubles, big or small.

I thank all these men on behalf of the South Ontario Beef Club for helping us complete our 4-H year successfully.
