Advance polls before election

Ontario voters will have three opportunities to vote in the province's 1st general election. A voter may cast only one ballot, the franchise may be exercised on any one of three days: June 4, June 5, and June 9.

The first two dates are advance polls, available for any qualified voter who expects to be unable to vote on June 9. June 4 and June 6 are advance polls defined by The Election Act as the Saturday and Monday immediately preceding election day. Hours for voting at these advance polls are noon to 9 p.m. EDT.

Because Returning Officers have been directed to hold their advance polls in easily accessible locations, handicapped and elderly voters are encouraged to vote at one of the advance polls.

On election day, June 9 the polls will open at 9 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. EDT.
