Golf tourney

The recently held golf tournament at Sleepy Hollow, which featured over a hundred professional hockey players, was a success for the Participation House in Markham. The House received donations from the tournament, which attracted many people.

Dave Keon, left, and Doug Favell, both ex-teammates for the Toronto Maple Leafs share a laugh at the Sleepy Hollow golf club. We're not sure if they're reliving a humorous hockey incident or trying to forget a bad golf shot. They were just two of the hundred well known hockey players that showed up for the tournament.

There's Claire Alexander, Toronto Maple Leaf defenceman, preparing himself for what looks to be an easy putt. Fortunately, Claire is a better defenceman than he is a golfer, as the putt missed, but only by inches.

Gail Jackson dominates ball game

Gail Jackson, playing a home run for her team, for the Goodwood team, Gail pitched a great game, and also caught three fly balls in the first in a recent game against Ballantrae. The Goodwood squad went on to completely dominate Ballantrae 34-8, with Ann Lacoursiere batting three home runs and Veronica Woodhouse hitting two. They also defeated Stouffville 2, 18-2. The Pine Orchard peewee girls squeaked by Stouffville 1, with an 11-10 victory.
