Bob Little, whose size belies his name, won a pink rock throwing contest at Markham Fair. Mr. Little, a Cedar Grove resident, easily outdistanced all other competitors. The game, introduced at last year's fair, is said to have come down from pioneer days when local blacksmiths took turns throwing the round greyish-pink rocks.

Fine message at harvest service

By JENNIE JOHNSON Green River, one day recently.

Birthday greetings to Master Edward Johnson who celebrated his 9th birthday recently.

Mrs. Ralph Faulkner was visiting with her sister Mrs. Charles Fiss,

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. George Pickett who observed their 57th wedding anniversary on Oct. 12. Bessie, whose home was in Alymer, came to the 'Glen' to teach school in 1917. George is a life long resident of Glen Major.

We welcome Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kennedy and family, of Pickering, who have taken up residence in their new home here.

Mr. and Mrs. David Simmonds entertained 30 people to dinner at their home on Friday evening to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. Their guests were: their bridal party of 25 years ago; the husband or wife of each member; Rev. and Mrs. Timpany, Kingston; and Barbara's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grosse of Toronto. Congratulations and best wishes are extended by Glen Major friends.

Those who attended the Harvest Home Service at Pine Grove on Sunday received a fine message in song from the Kerby family and Joan Chow of Epsom when they sang What a Friend we Have in Jesus and In Times Like These You Need an Anchor.

Canon H.L. Puxley delivered a splendid message so appropriate for rural thankfulness. The church was beautiful with autumn flowers, fruits and vegetables.
