

Goodwood potluck dinners

By ELSIE BOLAND
The Goodwood Institute had a very successful pot luck dinner and meeting in the Goodwood Hall on Monday, February 13. Our next meeting will be Monday, March 13.

Joyce McGuckin had a Valentine pot luck dinner for the pot luckers February 14.

Michael Kerrigan is feeling better. He received a nasty burn on his back when he fell and spilt a cup of hot coffee on himself. He was taken to Uxbridge hospital and released after treatment.

Wednesday evening, February 15 was bingo night in Goodwood Hall. There was a nice crowd but we need more out. Our next bingo is March 1. The jackpot is not gone yet, so come along and have a night of fun.

The 4H girls met at Ellen MacIntosh's February 16 and are progressing very well with their project.

Also on Thursday evening, February 16, the Block Parents met in the Library of the Goodwood Public School. David Cole was elected chairman with Judy Todd acting as secretary. A police officer showed pictures and Mrs. Hudson from Pickering also related information on Block Parents. This is a good organization and let's get it on the road. For information phone 640-5296.

Rinti Mausma had a big birthday surprise party on Saturday night when a number of friends gathered at the Mausma's to celebrate his birthday. The biggest surprise was when the people from the meat department of the Miracle Food Mart arrived.

Euchre is Wednesday night at 8 p.m. We all have a good time and a good lunch.

Don and Ruth Jackson are holidaying in Mexico.

Patty Watson is being married in Sutton United Church. The Watsons have been lifetime residents of Goodwood for many years.

The Carlsons are holidaying back north for a week.

Glad to know that Susan Kelso is home from Centenary Hospital. Hope she is fully recovered.

News has been received from Vancouver that Mrs. Eldon Staley passed away. The Staley family lived in Goodwood for many years.

Barb Calas has gone Datsun, and it is a beautiful green colour. Looking for spring, eh!

Church was as usual on Sunday. Glad to welcome the new faces at the United Church. Hope to see you next week.

The general U.C.W. will meet on Wednesday at 1 p.m. in the United Church.

The Couples Club Dance was enjoyed by many people especially those who dressed in 1950's costumes. The winning couple was Shirley Hammond and her escort John. This dance was February 18 and the many people there took up a collection for the Peterson family whose home was burned recently.

Jim Ogden was visiting old friends in Goodwood on Saturday. He's the same Jim we all used to know when he lived in Goodwood. Jim and Joyce enjoy living in South River.

Many thanks to the gentleman driving the Volvo in Stouffville who believes in driving with care and courtesy.

Jackie Hannah and baby are holidaying in Thunder Bay with the Hannahs. Poor Garth has to do his own cooking.

A number of people from Goodwood took in the skating on Saturday night at the Markham Fair Grounds on the race track. There was a large crowd skating to music. Sunday was family skating and there was a good turnout.

Please remember the Minor Ball Dance on Saturday, March 4 at Goodwood Hall. Tickets are available. This is one way the baseball association has to keep costs down.

The Baptist Church

ladies are quilting on Tuesday mornings and have a Bible study at the same time.

The United Church ladies are quilting on Monday, February 17 at Elva Symes.

A number of Goodwood area boys play hockey in the PeeWee 1 Uxbridge. They won their playoff game against Port Perry taking them into the Picton zone. The first game was in the Uxbridge arena last Friday night and beat Picton 1-0. They played a second game on Sunday night in Picton, winning this 4-3. The series is the best 3 out of 5 with another game being played this week.

Here's wishing them the best of luck.

The Tribune does circulate around. Your reporter got a phone call from Pickering wanting to know what the dogs were like that killed our geese. She had lost two big black dogs a couple of months ago and has never been able to locate them. She had never heard of our Ann Barrett.

Sorry to hear that our library is closing. What can we do about it?

Flanked by TV cameras, the Nipissing County Boys, a group of Claremont brothers, turn out their version of Bluegrass during the taping of "New Faces in small places" a CHCH TV program which will feature Stouffville on March 12 at 6:30 p.m. Below, Clarion Baker seems to be enjoying his session in the make-up chair.

Town residents star on T.V.

STOUFFVILLE — Two busloads of local residents journeyed to the CHCH TV studios in Hamilton last Saturday for the taping of "New Faces in small places" show.

The program, to be aired on channel 11, Sunday, March 12 at 6:30 p.m. will feature the town of Stouffville and some of its talented residents.

Some of the talented artists featured in the show are vocalists Jean Hammond and Tim Brazier, Clarion Baker at the piano, and woodwind quartet from SDSS, and of course, a Stouffville audience in the stands.
