NEWMARKET -Some serious crimes that occur in York Region are never made public. Police Chief Bruce Crawford told regional council last week.

"Although we don't have the quantity of major crime that Toronto has, we have the same quality," he said.

"We've had extortion bids on people that you don't know about. There are hostage - taking incidents that you people

Localchamber plans May fair

Planning for an in the planning stage but Annual May Fair is under it is anticipated that a way at the Whitehurch variety of entertainment will be provided including Commerce. One of contests for adults and children, pet shows, prize draws, fancy dress, music, dancing, clowns, food and drink, to make a full day of enjoyment in the May Day tradition. Chamber President Jack Chambers told The Tirbune that the date and complete program will be announced in the near future.

The fair is viewed as a follow-up to the highly successful Country Fair held last year by the Library Fund-raising Committee. Local sentiment was high after the fair to stage some sort of an annual event.

Now you see it -

First step in the re-channelization of Duffin's Creek came last Wednesday when the former Stouffville Printing office was quickly torn down. Contract for the job went to National Building Demolition of Highway 48. The fate of the buildings on either side of the printing office. New Image hair dressers and the laundromat are still undecided. The re-channelization of the creek is a necessary step in laying the groundwork for the Dulverton subdivision.

Child abuse discussed at Library

Child abuse is one of this country's most pressing problems, Gordon Cone, co-ordinator of Family Services, Region of York, told parents attending a Thursday morning meeting in the Whitchurch - Stouffville Public Library.

While statistics point to no peak periods, the months of January and February appear to be prime times, he said.
