

Music Mania packs hall

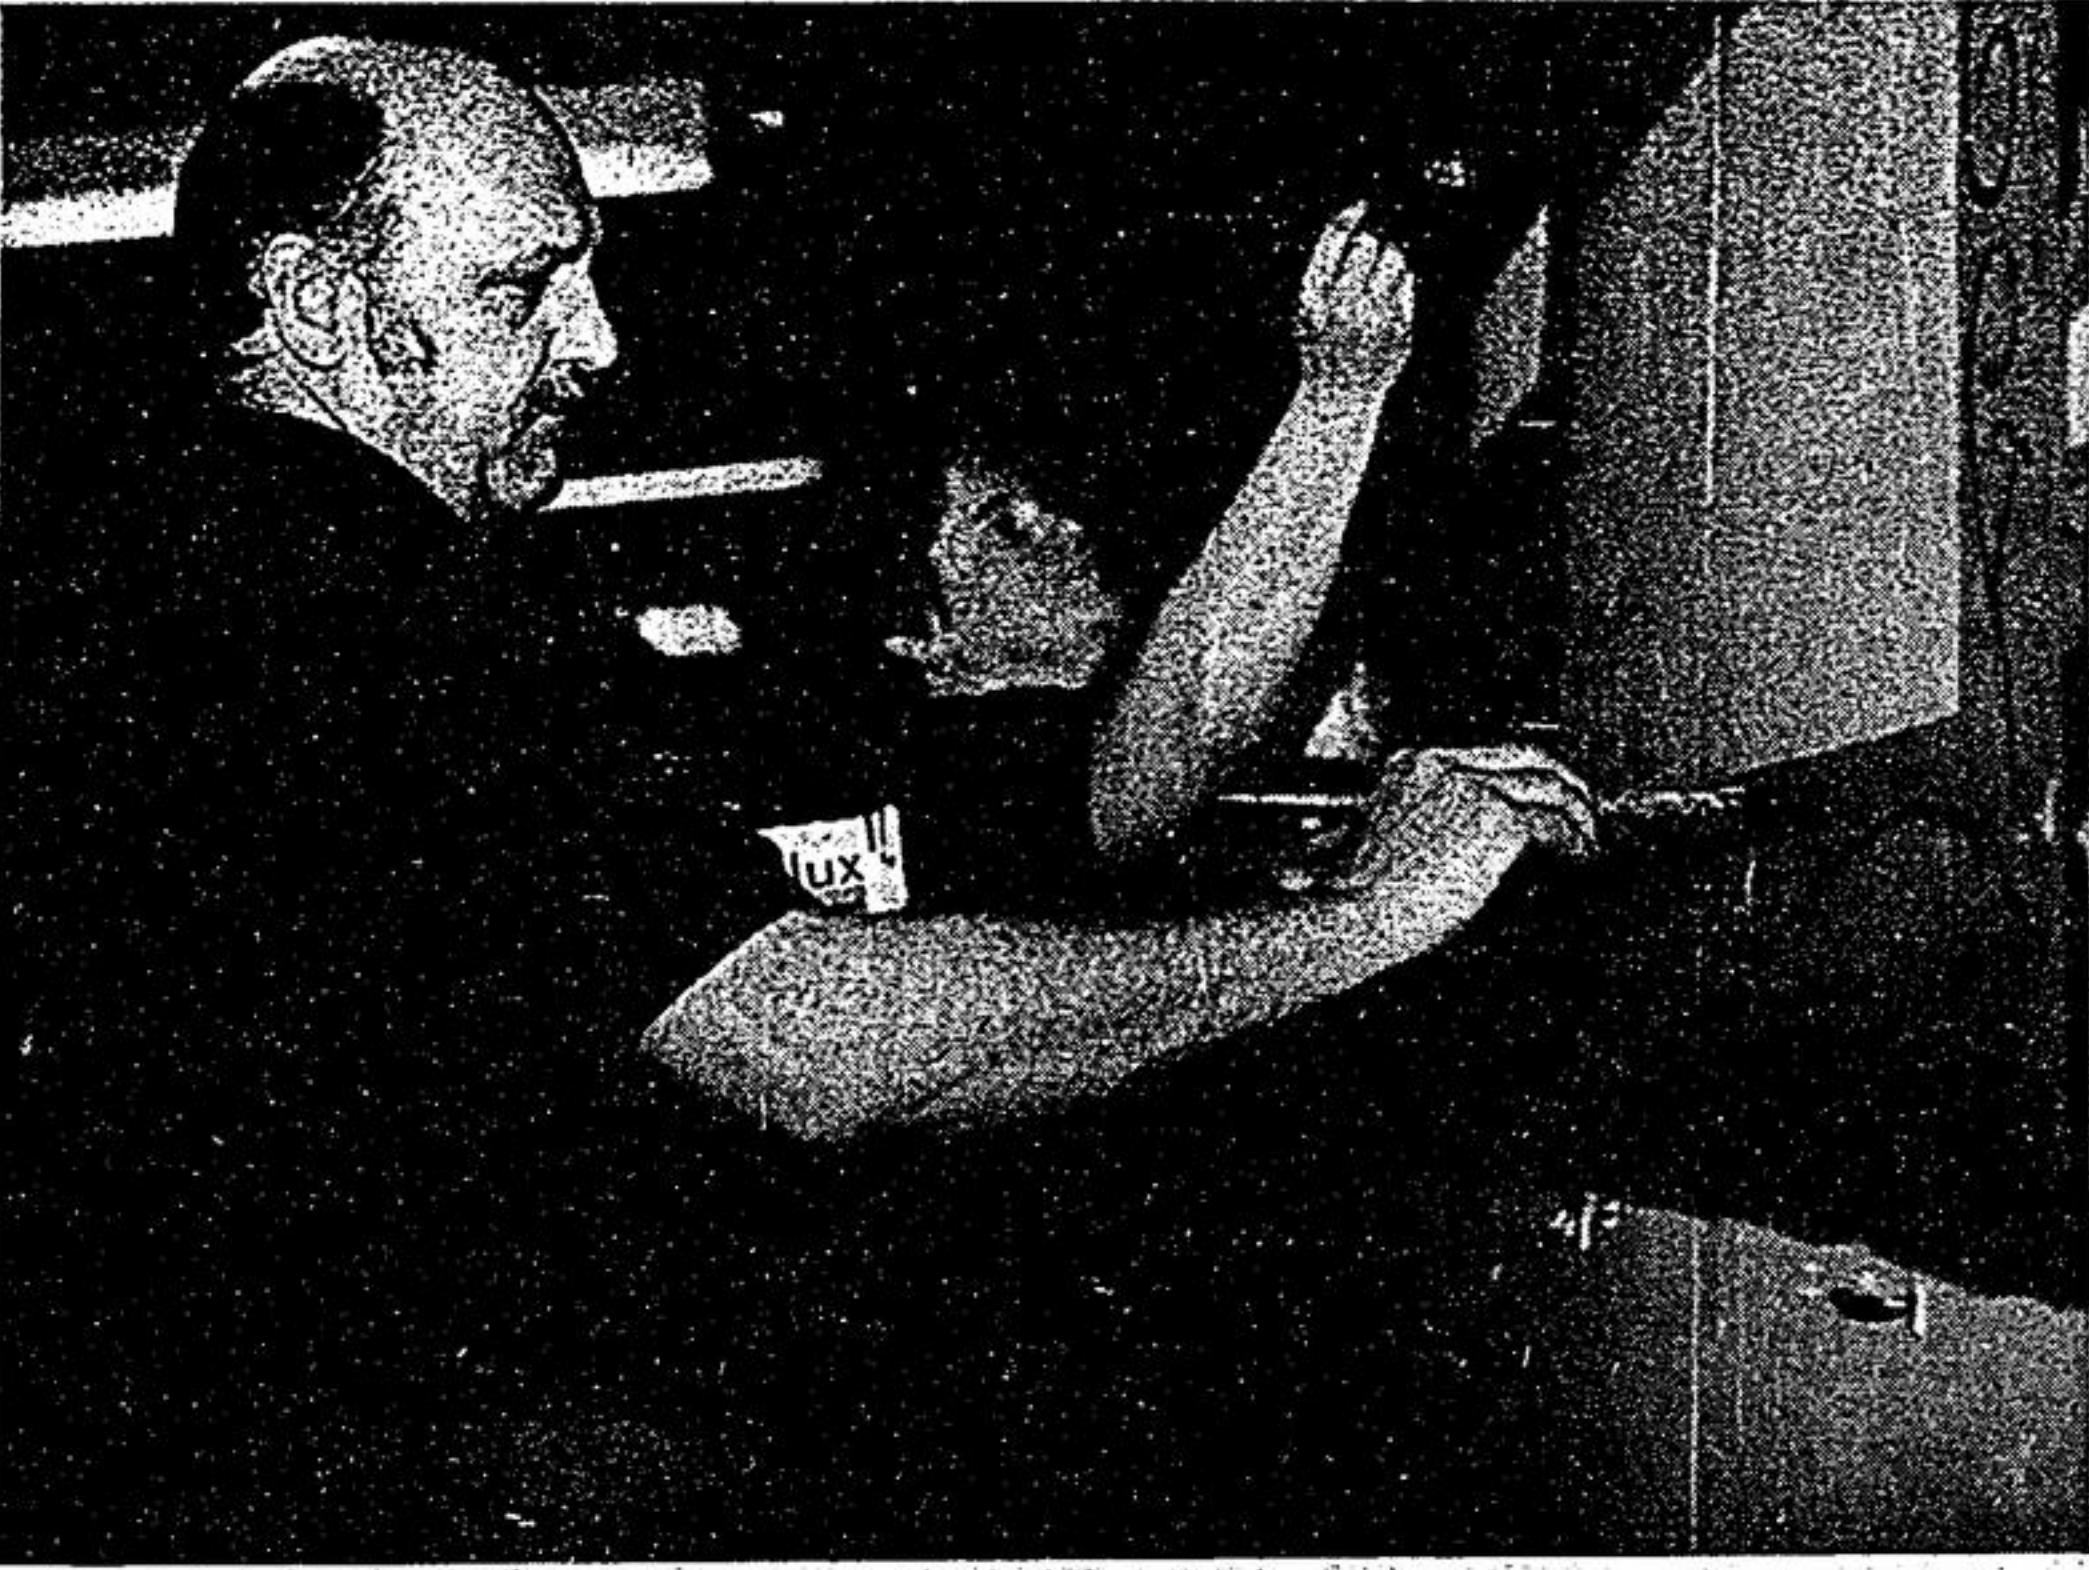

Music Mania had everything this year, even a commercial. Don Huxtable here attempts to extoll the virtues of Abercrombie gin while 'cameraman' Mike Follett films the action.

That performers have just as much fun as the audience becomes evident when watching Jim Brazier dance with Charlotte Cave.

The husband is always the last to know. Prince Phillip (Dr. Don Petrie) appears surprised and horrified when his curly haired queen (Kathy Job) removes her hairpiece and exposes a shiny pink pate.

While the dress rehearsal was in full swing in the front, frantic painting was still going on backstage. Here Bruce and Bunny Burton put decorative curlicues on a backdrop. On the right Edna Luther, portraying a lonely old woman, huddles pathetically on a bench during a rare serious number while the chorus sings "Feed the birds."

Many dance numbers added sparkle to the show. Here Pirrko Eager, Lorna Ness, Sharon Brazier, Margo Nagy and Charlotte Cave do an exuberant interpretation of "All that Jazz."

An audience makes the show, and this trio was clearly delighted by the zippy numbers.
