

Designer linens created by Canada's own Simon Chang

A first for Canada. A coup for Eaton's. That's what happened when we asked this fashion designer to create a collection of sheets, pillowcases and comforters especially for Canadians. Simon Chang drew on his clothing fashion philosophy of versatile, contemporary fashions at affordable prices and used it for home fashions.

Here, we introduce the result. Linens that interplay checks with florals for a masculine versus feminine feeling. Subtle colours, of khaki, dusty peach and old brick red on champagne ground that enhance and adapt to existing environments. In a variety of ways. With all-over patterns for a lavish effect. Or, when your mood changes, plains with patterned borders for a subtle, understated look. Or mixed for a layered look. Intriguing. Designed by Simon Chang, made by Wabasso, exclusively for Eaton's. Made with unusual double piping, of permanent press cotton-and-polyester. Sanitized-treated. The comforter, reversing from pattern to checks, light and warm with Dacron II polyester filling.

Eaton's Canadian Celebration Salutes Canadian Crafts

From now until Sept. 16th, Eaton stores play host to a multitude of people with a multitude of abilities. Here are just a few of them —

Bramalea — See soapstone sculpture, painting on wood, an exhibition of crocheted designs, an exhibit of crafts by Sheridan College students, and graphic artist/cartoonist Peter Garvey sketching evenings, to Sept. 16.

Burlington — hosts the Burlington Cultural Centre with an exhibition of works from 7 guilds — photography, pottery, weaving, sculpture, fine arts, rug hooking and art.

Oshawa — Indian artist Don McLeay carves a totem pole for a local Boy-Scout pack. Men's and women's fall fashions are presented Sept. 13th, 14th, and 15th at 2:30 p.m. Talented local craftspeople show and sell their wares.

Scarborough — Watch the Rhythm Rascals (they range in age from 65 to 91) perform, Sept. 14th 3:00 p.m. - 4:00 p.m. Browse through the batik, painting, pottery, weaving and dried flower arranging demonstrations.

Sherway — A show and sale show Sept. 13th, 14th & 15th at 7:30 p.m. A show and sale of screen-printed birds, stained glass pieces, ceramic, porcelain and glass figurines, metal sculpture. Watch members of the Etobicoke Quilters Guild demonstrating their craft.

Toronto Warehouse Store — Children will be busy planting maple trees, weaving and singing! From Sept. 13th to 16th. Join in the Great Canadian Bubble Gum Contest this Saturday.

Yorkdale — A Salute to Ontario Artisans features 27 artists and craftspeople exhibiting and demonstrating everything from pipe-making to china painting, from leatherwork to lapidary — and just about everything in between. Daily, all week.
