Late Stan Pringle Enthusiastic sportsman

MARKHAM — This community lost one of its most active sports organizers, Oct. 18, with the passing of Stanley Grant Pringle, 83 Peter Street, Markham.

Born in a small house on Albert Street, Aug. 18, 1909, the son of William and Laura Elizabeth Pringle, Stan grew up in Markham and spent all his life there. He received his schooling in the village, attending at Franklin Street and old Markham High.

As a boy, he was active in the Methodist and later the United Church; one of his tasks as a lad was to pump the big organ during choir practices. Mr. Pringle continued his connections with the church.

Forty-six years ago, Stan Pringle married Marjorie Poulton. They lived at several locations in the village before building their present home in 1955.

Before the war, Mr. Pringle worked for the brokerage firm of Brouse and Mitchell, but the 1929 stock market crash ended this. He worked as a druggist's assistant, first for A.J. Woods and later George Greer. During the war he worked at a munitions plant in Ajax.

Mr. Pringle retired recently, having achieved the position of parts manager for several Markham car dealerships, including Fred Hamilton and Son, Conlin Motors, and Markham Chrysler Dodge.

However, Mr. Pringle was better known for his outstanding contribution to sports in the community. In 1932, he founded the Markham Minor Hockey association; was a coach, referee, and a member of the executive. He retired from the organization in 1953.

According to his son, Grant, Mr. Pringle was "sports-minded all his life."

Stan Pringle had many personal triumphs in his sports career. He played for a Junior OHA club, and could have turned "pro." In the 1930's, he led a "down and out" Locust Hill hockey team to the championship. Later, in the 1950's, he led Markham to the Junior Ontario Baseball Association championship.

He was active in the Markham - Unionville Lions Club, serving as chairman of the Committee for Sports Events. He organized boys and girls baseball leagues, and initiated the Markham Township Track and Field Day.

Mr. Pringle is survived by his wife, Marjorie; a son, Grant; a daughter, Patricia; sisters Elsie, Margaret and Grace and one brother, Frank.

Services were conducted Oct. 21 by Rev. Donald Parr from the Dixon-Garland Funeral Home, Markham.

The pallbearers were — Gord Ferrier, Rick Sheppard, Ted Poulton, Brad Cadieux, Tim Clark, and Gordon Forgie. There were five honorary pallbearers — John Lunau, A.J. Woods, Gordon Penny, Don Eltherington, and Wig Runstedler.
