

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fockler celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary with a family gathering, Saturday. The well-known

Ringwood area couple have two daughters, two sons and fourteen grandchildren. — Jim Thomas.

Family honors parents on 50th anniversary

RINGWOOD — Joseph Albert Fockler and Lulu May Preston met at the farm of the late George McKuen of Lemonville, now owned by Grant Wells. Joe worked as a farm hand and Lulu as the housemaid. After a few months they began courting, and later married. The ceremony was performed in the parsonage of Rev. Daniel Prossor of Newmarket on August 4, 1928. They spent the holiday weekend with their attendants Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Gibson.

Ladies Invited
Town ladies are invited to the Stouffville Missionary Church on Wednesday, Nov. 15 to enjoy a few hours of fellowship from 9:45 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Louise Leonard will demonstrate the making of a Christmas gingerbread house and Julie Edgecomb of Guelph will address the gathering.

visiting many places in the surrounding district. Joe took to farming with the late David Stouffer of Ringwood, remaining on with Mr. George Rodanz. Deciding he would like a change of occupation, he applied and was accepted with the Toronto and York Roads Commission that later turned Regional. Here he remained for 28 years, retiring in 1974.

Lulu gained many acquaintances through the years by clerking at the Ringwood General store with proprietors Mr. and Mrs. Everett Sinclair, Mr. and Mrs. William Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Reid. They have lived in Ringwood most of their married life where they have been active members of the Congregational Christian Church. Joe has served many terms as church trustee and usher. Lulu taught a Sunday School class for almost 40 years, has held the position of president of the 4 C's ladies missionary society and is at the present time the ladies treasurer. She is also a member of the "Excelsior Class" and the Christian Endeavour Society.

Joe was the youngest son of a large family of 14 children born to Hugh and Melinda Fockler. Lulu was the eldest of a family of six born to Harry and Bertha Preston.

They have 4 children — Helen, (Mrs. Norman Nigh) of Stouffville, Hazel, (Mrs. Tom Bullock) of Agincourt, Clarence and Bruce both of Ringwood, and enjoy the company of their 14 grandchildren.

General of Canada, Premier William Davis and M.P.P. William Hodgson, along with dozens of cards from relatives, friends and neighbours. They were entertained socially by their family in honor of this milestone in their lives.

Late Olive Bunker Respected by all

GOODWOOD — Olive Bunker loved life and lived it to the full.

She enjoyed the great outdoors no matter what the season. She loved snowmobiling, cross-country skiing, ice fishing and gardening. Oil-painting brought her much pleasure and her completed works will remain a constant reminder of her talent.

Mrs. Bunker died Oct. 28 in Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay, following an illness of about two months.

While a resident of Goodwood, her interest and involvement touched every type of community activity. She served as president of the United Church Women's organization in Goodwood and was a teacher in the Sunday School.

She enjoyed the great outdoors no matter what the season. She loved snowmobiling, cross-country skiing, ice fishing and gardening. Oil-painting brought her much pleasure and her completed works will remain a constant reminder of her talent.

Skating was also a recreation that brought her much enjoyment. Clarence and Olive often visited arenas in the area on 'old-time' skating nights including Stouffville and Markham. They continued to participate in this sport after building a new home and moving to R.R. 2, Minden just over three years ago.

Mrs. Bunker, the former Olive Bartholomew, was born north of Stouffville, the daughter of Audrey and Martha Bartholomew. Prior to taking up residence at Goodwood, her home for 30 years, she lived at Newmarket and Altona. She had a wide circle of friends.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two sons, Jack of Aurora and Harold of Barrie; four daughters, Faye Gleason, Thornhill, Caroline (Mrs. Edward Venn), Toronto, Joyce (Mrs. John Roxborough), Woodville, Joanne (Mrs. Kevin Doble), Sunderland; three grandchildren, Darrell Gleason, Stephen and Jeannette Roxborough; five brothers, Gordon and Frank Bartholomew of Oakville, Herb in Toronto, Allan of Newmarket, George in Stouffville and one sister, Blanche Boyd of West Hill.

Pall bearers were — Harvey Bunker, Mervin Bunker, Bert Boyd, Jim Morrison, George Alsop and Al Thompson. Interment was made in the Stouffville Cemetery.
