JoAnn Thompson, a third year journalism student from Centennial College, Scarborough, will be working at The Tribune for the next five weeks. The placement program is part of the school's on-the-job training course prior to graduation. —Jim Thomas.

Meet JoAnn

Student on staff

Hi, I'm JoAnn Thompson, a temporary addition to the editorial staff at The Tribune on a placement program. As a third year journalism student from Centennial College in Scarborough, I'll be with The Tribune for the next five weeks familiarising myself with the bustlings of a news room.

You'll probably see me innocently wandering around town with my camera looking for a "Big Scoop", or more likely, the municipal building.

Being from a small town called Gravenhurst, which is much like Stouffville, I feel very comfortable here. It feels good to get into the working world for a while. Because I entered college right after graduating from Gravenhurst High, it seems I've been going to school all my life. But my father assures me there's plenty of hard work ahead when I graduate in June.

I'm looking forward to meeting and talking to the people of Stouffville. The folks I've met so far have been very friendly, as I predict most small town people are.

When I graduate, I hope to move out of Toronto and work for a small town paper. I like the field of journalism because of the continuous variety of work involved. There are many areas of journalism I would like to explore, such as radio and television news, public relations, and magazines.

I know I'm going to enjoy my stay here. The only regret is by the time I get to know people, I'll have to return to class.

So if you see me on the street and I look totally bewildered, please say hello and start talking. It would put me more at ease, and perhaps you could tell me where I'm going.

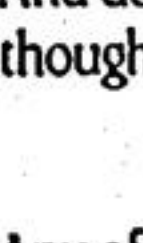

Without knowing it, you could be a turn-off.

 Do you always take a bath, instead of a shower which uses less power?

 Do you fill a kettle full to make a single cup? Turn on the washing machine for just a few things?

 Leave the TV on when no one's watching?

 And do you often forget to turn off the porch light even though everyone's home in bed?

 Any of these thoughtless little habits can make you a turn-off. Because waste of electricity, like anything that everybody really needs, can turn people off.

 Wouldn't you rather turn off a light bulb than turn off a friend? Think about how you use electricity.

Wasting electricity turns people off.

This message is brought to you by your Hydro on behalf of people who care.
