

Stouffville 4-H members receive County Honors

Two Stouffville 4-H Club members received County Honors Diplomas, June 28, at an Achievement Day in the Town Park. Jane Tosney, (left) of North Street and Nancy Darling, Loretta Crescent were presented with their certificates by Home Economist, Beverley Brook. Lynn Rae, Stouffville, R.R. 4, received her Provincial Diploma but couldn't attend the ceremony.

Reunion was a success

Dear Jim:
It was with great satisfaction that we, the Reunion Committee Heads, watched the enjoyment of students and teachers who returned to Stouffville High School on June 23rd, after twenty-five years.

Our numbers were somewhat discouraging, but the enthusiasm of the ones attending compensated for this. We would like to thank you Jim for your real interest and hard work, and the backing of The Tribune, with many articles and pictures.

The Reunion could not have been successful without the hard work of Ron Mercer, Linda Wagg, Bob and Nancy Stover, John and Joan Pugh, Lorraine Steckley, Kim Ellis and Mike Paul.

There were many people who were not in charge, but carried out plans of the committees; where would we be without them? People like Maryanne, Cathy, Wendy, Jean, John, Jim, Don, Larry, David, Richard, Carol, Sue, the High School staff and the janitors... a special thanks to all for your time and effort.

Financially speaking, a sincere thanks to The Town of Whitchurch-Stouffville, The Stouffville Lions Club, The Stouffville Chamber of Commerce, and the Stouffville High School. To the ex-students and teachers, we owe many thanks, for you made all the work by the Reunion Committee worthwhile. Thanks for the smiles and comments.

To all the people who helped that we haven't mentioned, thanks; and to the people who said they would help but didn't, we hope you get your chance at the 50th Reunion.

Thanks one and all; see you in year 2004.

Sincerely,
William Giles

Co-operation made the day

Dear Jim,

As Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Stouffville Family Life Centre, I would like to use this opportunity to thank the Town of Whitchurch-Stouffville for the support of the recent "World Child Day." I know of no other town the size of ours who has been able to develop such a program around this International Year of the Child. Our effort demonstrates that Stouffville is indeed a community that takes its commitment to the next generation very seriously, and I only hope that we can build upon what has begun in this special year. It is impossible to thank personally all who took part in the activities of "World Child Day," though the names of Diane Kerr and Norah McElroy were the key ingredients. But to those who gave of their time, those who contributed financially or in providing materials, those who transformed the arena into a "wonderland" for children, those who assisted in the information session for parents, to Jacqui Morrison for arranging the evening concert, to you all a congratulations on a job well done. The Town of Whitchurch-Stouffville is better because of people like you. Let us pledge to continue our concern to make the world a better place for children and young people.

Sincerely,
Ted Green.

Area schools Teachers' farewell

STOUFFVILLE — The end of the June term marked the conclusion of careers for some teachers in the area; changes in locations for others and temporary leaves of absence for a few more.

At Whitchurch-Highlands, librarian Jeanne Hales is retiring and Joan McCool joined the staff at Parkview School in Unionville.

At Ballantrae, Kindergarten teacher Diane Morgan will be teaching part-time at Lake Wilcox; Georgina Brock is going to George Street School, Aurora; Elizabeth Harvey is moving to Baythorn School, Thornhill; Donna Finkelman will be joining the staff at Glen Cedar School, Newmarket and John Sandham will teach part-time at Baythorn, Thornhill and also complete his degree.

The teaching staff at Dickson's Hill will be unchanged for September.

At Summitview School, Stouffville, librarian, Helen Weatherbee has retired, also staff teacher, Janet McNicol.

Dorothy Ward, English teacher at Stouffville Dist. Secondary School is retiring to pursue a career in the business world. Mary-Jane Pickup is going to Markham High School, Orchard Park School, Stouffville is losing its Grade 4, teacher, Jan Percy; Ed MacDonald, Grades 5 and 6; and part-time librarian, Helen Weatherbee.

Bud West, the instrumental music teacher at St. Mark's School, is travelling west to teach in a junior high school at Pincher Creek, Alberta. Sue Gibb will teach Kindergarten at Pine Valley and Joan Corcoran has been promoted to the position of Special Programs Instructor for the Board. Connie Dubowitz, Grade 1, will be teaching at St. Luke's, Thornhill.

Planners praised

Dear Sir:
The Planning Committee and Council of the Town of Whitchurch-Stouffville are to be commended on their bold, forward look at the approach to the Town of Stouffville.

I have personally reviewed the study by J. H. Faulkner, Planning Consultants of Midland, Ontario and am very pleased with their suggestions for the future development of the north and south side of the Main Street coming into Stouffville.

I hope that the owners of these properties will give the Town their full support in trying to bring some useful industrial development to the Town of Stouffville.

At least now when people come to enquire they will have some idea of what Council is looking for on these properties.

Loot found in car

MARKHAM — While on patrol in the area of the 5th concession and 17th Avenue, late Saturday night, York Regional Police constable John Hitch had cause to stop a southbound car near the Cachet Country Club.

Before he could question the occupants, six youths abandoned the vehicle and fled, leaving behind a stereo, stereo equipment, a television set and a quantity of cash.

Some of the property was said to belong to a home-owner on 18th Avenue.

In the investigation that followed, five suspects were arrested. A warrant has been issued for a sixth.

Charges against the accused include four offenses in Scarborough between June 19 and 27.
