STOUFFVILLE — The Whitchurch-Stouffville Soccer Club coaches played their counterparts from the Scugog Youth Soccer Club, last Sunday, at Port Perry. This gave them a chance to put into practice all that valuable advice they hurl from the sidelines every week.

On arrival, the Whitchurch-Stouffville team were more than slightly disconcerted by the youthfulness of the opposition. Someone suggested they had their schedules mixed up and were fielding their Junior 'A' side by mistake. However, this was all forgotten once the game got under way.

Although Stouffville were first to score - no one is sure whom - the Scugog coaches were no slouches, and made some very dangerous attacks on the Stouffville goal. Fortunately, for the Stouffville team, big John Klein was in goal, and getting the ball past him is quite an achievement. His size intimidates opposing forwards.

Martin Johannessen worked himself into a lather in mid-field, making some very nice moves, that stabilized the half-backs and got the forwards moving well. He was ably assisted by very agile, and dare I say it - younger members of the team; there were one, or two, if I remember correctly.

Occasionally, one caught glimpses of Alfons Rubens, sprinting like a startled gazelle down the wing line; beating men half his age, when tackled.

The referee - whoever it was - received the usual terse comments and criticisms from both players and spectators alike: I wonder what he actually did with his whistle in the end? However, his continual 'blowing-up' for minor infractions was a god-send to the more senior members on-field.

Despite the occasional collapse of one or two players, there was no need for hospitalisation. Monday morning was a different story.

The eventual outcome was a 2-1 win for Stouffville, which only proves that in a youth versus experience battle: 'There is no fool like an old fool'.
