"Loves it"

Caroline Carr, Tenth Line South, Stouffville, is brushing up on her French while working as a mother's helper in France. She expects to remain there until March of next year and will be attending school in Marseille. Latest word from Caroline is that she's loving every minute of her stay there. Regular shoppers at the Stouffville I.G.A. will remember her friendly smile on cash there. She was also included in The Tribune's "Girl Next Door" feature before leaving for Europe.

To Herzing Institute
Bonnie Brown, Edward Street, a graduate of Stouffville Dist. Secondary School, will enrol this fall at Herzing Institute, Toronto in a legal secretary course.

Regular services resume
The congregations of the Stouffville United Church and St. James Presbyterian Church, resume separate services this coming Sunday. Worship in the United Church is at 11 a.m., and at the Presbyterian Church, 10 a.m.

Purchase home
Blair and Marie Emmerson, Winlane Apartments, Stouffville, have purchased the home of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Foskett, Westlawn Crescent. The house was sold by public auction, Thursday. The top bid was $60,500.

Home from England
Barbara Carr, Tenth Line South, accompanied by her sister, Pat Baker, Winlane Drive, recently enjoyed a three-week holiday in England where they visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bonwick in Kent.

Parents of grads
Last week, The Tribune received an unsigned letter, asking why we have mentioned the names and locations of some S.D.S.S. graduates and not others. The answer is, that we just couldn't reach everyone due to similar last names, unlisted numbers and folks away on vacation. We're anxious to know what all Grade 12 and 13 graduates are doing this fall so, parents, give us a call. The number is 640-2100.

Antique Show

The 16th annual Antique Exhibition and Sale, sponsored by St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, opens Thursday (to-night) at 7 p.m., in the Markham Arena and continues Friday (11 a.m. to 10 p.m.) and Saturday (10 a.m. to 5 p.m.).

Guided-Brownie News
Saturday, Sept. 15 is Guide Brownie Registration Day at Latham Hall, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. At a meeting of the Local Association, Aug. 28, it was decided by majority vote that each mother should be assessed an annual fee of nine dollars per family as a means of raising money to finance the Packs and Companies. The nine dollars is in addition to the six dollars for registration.

"The Bluebird Ball"
The Stouffville Arthritis Society is sponsoring "The Bluebird Ball", Fri., Sept. 21 in Latham Hall. A meeting to make plans for the dance will be held Thursday (to-night) at 8 p.m., in the Library.

Giant Auction

To raise money in support of Vietnamese refugees, St. Patrick's Church in Markham is holding a Giant Auction, Sat., Sept. 15 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., in the parking lot, Hwy. 7 near Robinson Street. Well-known Stouffville auctioneer, Don Burd will be calling the bids.

Home is sold
Vi Rennie's home at the corner of Main and Church Street South, has been sold. The purchaser is Joyce Dunham of Altona. The transaction was shared by Bob Dart Real Estate and Gerry Meharg Real Estate. Occupancy is anticipated by early November.

Beautiful sight
It was a beautiful sight early Thursday morning. The sun was breaking through dense fog and shining across a pond on the north-east corner of the Bloomington Road and Ninth Line North. In the very centre of this man-made lake was a Great Blue Heron, motionless on one leg and unmindful of traffic rolling past on two sides.

Art Gallery

The Whitchurch-Stouffville Public Library will soon have its own art gallery. This long-anticipated addition to the facility, opens on Wed., Sept. 12.

Rebekah and Odd-fellows members of the district will join the congregation of the Stouffville United Church in a special service, Sunday, Sept. 9 at 11 a.m. The guest soloist will be Beverley Bell.

'Jay-Jay' says thanks

STOUFFVILLE
Almost three months ago, the family of Richard and Lynn Poeltl, 496 Elm Road, found a baby Blue Jay in the backyard of their home.

The boys, Ricky, 10; Michael, 7 and David, 4 immediately "adopted" the tiny bird and, with the help of their parents, provided it all the nourishment required. They called it "Jay-Jay". Unfortunately, Jay-Jay's recovery took a turn for the worse when it broke its leg. But all wasn't over. At no cost, a staff member at the Stouffville Veterinary Clinic fixed him up with a splint. He's now good as new.

Jay-Jay's so appreciative of the personal attention he's received, he doesn't want to leave. He suns himself on the clothesline and sleeps on a perch under the patio. His diet includes grasshoppers and spiders, mulberries, bran, apples and raw fish. He's so much a part of the family, he'll eat out of their hands.

So far, Jay-Jay has shunned all appeals from seniors in the species to fly off with them, and this pleases the Poeltl children. They want him to stay.

Jay-Jay, a three month old Blue Jay, sits on the shoulder of Michael Poeltl, Elm Road, Stouffville. Michael, his two brothers and his parents have nurtured the bird back to strength and now he refuses to leave. Jim Thomas

Bob Clark got back in the swing of things because arthritis research is paying off.

Bob Clark enjoys playing golf, although there was a time when he thought he would never play again.

Until a few years ago, Bob suffered through recurring attacks of gout, an acutely painful form of arthritis that can make the slightest movement sheer agony. Fortunately, Bob was one of the first Canadians to benefit from the medical research that has made it possible to control gout and its tormenting pain.

"I owe a great deal to arthritis research," says Bob, "without proper treatment I would still be frequently incapacitated. As it is, the effects of my condition are kept under control and I can lead a full and active life."

"About the only time I mention gout these days is when my golf game is off and I need a good excuse."

Bob Clark is a dedicated supporter of The Arthritis Society. "I asked my doctors what I could do to thank them for getting me back on my feet and they told me about the work of The Arthritis Society in encouraging and funding arthritis research."

"I initially volunteered my services to the Society's provincial organization and have been, for a long time now, a member of its National Executive". Bob adds that his involvement with the Society has been a source of great satisfaction.

For Bob Clark, and thousands of other Canadians, arthritis research is paying off.

About one in every eight Canadians has some form of arthritis. But victory is coming within reach. Your support for the Arthritis Society will be used to fund vital medical research.

For more information about arthritis write or call your local Arthritis Society.

Plan dance

The Stouffville Arthritis Society will meet on Thursday (to-night) at 8 p.m., in the Public Library, to finalize plans for "The Bluebird Ball" to be held Sept. 21 in Latham Hall. Dance tickets are available by calling 640-2702; 640-3319 and 640-2264.

To Prince George

Elwood Wasmund, Windsor Drive, Musselman's Lake, accompanied by David Miller of Ballantrae, recently enjoyed a 4,000 mile trip to Prince George, British Columbia where they visited Elwood's brother. While there, Elwood had an opportunity to speak to Gary Landers, by telephone. Mr. Landers is the former minister at Churchill Baptist Church.
