

Two year old Nicole Hogg, Nelson Street, Markham, and her entry "Heidi", were favorites with the audience at Markham Fair's Pet Show, Friday. Nicole received a red ribbon when Heidi was judged the smallest dog on display.

Porky pig is pet champ

MARKHAM — Three year old Glenn Beckett persevered, Friday afternoon, and together with a pig called "Porky", won the Grand Championship at Markham Fair's annual Pet Show. There were 54 entries.

Glenn and his entry, not the most co-operative pet on display, were presented with the Ron Underwood Trophy by Fair president Mac Cosburn. Marion Norton of Goodwood headed up the committee. Glenn and "Porky" were given a rousing ovation by a large audience in attendance. He's the son of Lawrence and Ruth Beckett, Unionville, RR 1.

Previous to receiving the championship prize, "Porky" topped the category for "Best Farm Animal".

Other red ribbon recipients follow: Best Rabbit-Trevor and Kevin Stewart of Goodwood; Pet With Best Trick-Scott Ford, Markham; Best Guinea Pig-Chris Hobbs, Stouffville; Largest Dog-Wendy Caine, Buttonville; Smallest Dog-Nicole Hogg, Markham; Dog With Longest Tail-Wendy Caine, Buttonville; Dog With Shortest Tail-Matthew

Parsons, Unionville; Most Unusual Pet-Andrew Cook, Markham; Dog With Longest Ears-Brian Morgason, Markham; Cat With Longest Tail-Lynda Parker, Markham; Dog With Saddest Eyes-Daniel and Allyson McIntosh, Markham; Cat With Longest Whiskers-Sam Revoy, Markham; Most Friendly Dog-Beverly Ferguson, Markham; Pet Most Resembling Its Owner-Tanya Jones, Unionville; Best Dressed Pet-Stewart Zemp, Willowdale.

John Kerr, George Street, Markham, was master of ceremonies. Joyce Alden of Briand-chris Kennels, 16th Avenue, Markham, was the judge.

In addition to the Grand Championship Trophy, other prizes were presented by Shur-Gain of Canada Packers; Master Dog Food of Maple Leaf Mills and the York County Jr. Kennel Club.

Mary bakes best cake

VIC. SQUARE — Like mother, like daughter.

Fifteen year old Mary Boynton of Victoria Square is the Champion Chocolate Cake maker at this year's Markham Fair.

Judge Ursula O'Connor gave Mary top marks for her entry. The class was new to the Eighteen and Under category, arranged by Jennie Thorpe and her committee and sponsored by Jim Thomas, editor of The Tribune. Mary, a Grade 10 student at Bayview

Secondary School, admits she enjoys baking at home, even though she takes some kidding from sisters, Joanne, 13 and Susan, 11. "They still eat it," she says.

Mary admits her mother's an excellent cook, offering her assistance when needed.

Although she's made cakes before, her red first layer she'd ever attempted, she said. Her specialty is chocolate chip cookies.

Mary is the daughter of Don and Dorothy Boynton, Gormley, RR 2.

Albert Boake

Poultry champ wins at Fair

MARKHAM — A champion, any champion, must be able to show well and attract favorable attention in tough competition at Markham Fair.

And that's just what this year's Champion Standard Fowl did this year.

It's an Anconas Pullet, owned by Albert Boake of Cedar Valley. Albert brought thirty of his best to the Fair and one was a winner. But winning isn't new to Albert. Last year he had one champion and two reserve champs.

The prize-winner was hatched in March, and raised along with 75 other chicks. Albert also has about 75 canaries, and 14 varieties of fowl, numbering about two hundred.

South River, Huntsville, Woodstock, Meaford, and Barrie.

AI's been raising and showing fowl for about 14 years now. Why?

"I enjoy this sort of thing. I guess it just grows on you."

But what does the wife think about 200 feathered friends clucking about the poultry house?

"Well, she doesn't take too much interest in

Best in show

MARKHAM — The construction of a pioneer log cabin won 13 year old Jessica Hax of Rosebank Road, Pickering, the Best in Show award for elementary school students at Markham Fair.

She was presented with the Sutherland Special, a plaque that will retain her name plus a trophy she can keep.

The project took six weeks to complete, Jessica said. She worked at it during the summer holidays.

The Rosebank Road Public School pupil is not a first-time entrant at the Fair. She was a 1st and a 6th in '78.
