Fair's best baker

MARKHAM — Florence White of Newmarket entered 60 items in the Domestic Science Class at Markham Fair. It was hard work, and most of the baking was done two days before the judging, but it paid off. She's this year's Grand Champion. Considering Florence had every pot, pan, and jar in her kitchen in use not to mention flour, sugar, and baking powder sprinkled everywhere, things went rather smoothly, except for her jelly roll.

"It just didn't look right. So I let the family eat it and I made another. I'm glad I did because I got a second on it."

It's the third year Florence has entered in the Fair, but the first time she's ever put in so much.

It takes a lot of patience she says, but she has what it takes because this year she also exhibited in the Aurora, Blackstock, and Oshawa. Next year, she's going to aim for Sutton as well.

But she enjoys baking and preserving, and certainly gets enough practice as past-president of the Pine Orchard Women's Institute and a member of the U.C.W. in Newmarket.

She's looking forward to next year when she can enter her needlepoint.
