

MARKHAM FAIR - GREAT SHOW

Beauty's in the eye of the beholder

Beauty's in the eye of the beholder, so they say. To the Board and directors of Markham Fair, it represented four perfect days, record crowds and buildings filled with exhibits. To the students in Room 9 at Roy H. Crosby School, it represented their prize-winning scarecrow. To everyone, it was lovely 18 year old Marilyn Ilott, this year's Markham Fair queen.

Jim Thomas

Brian MacAloney, Lloyd Avenue, Stouffville (left), presents horse-owner Bruce Adams of Pontypool with a lovely blanket at the conclusion of the first race, Saturday. On the right is driver Bruce Cockrane.

MICHAEL GRAMMER
"Top speller"

The Hon. Eugene Whelan (second-left), former federal minister of agriculture, officiated at the opening of Markham Fair, Saturday. On hand to welcome him were (left to right) - Dennis Seeley, 2nd vice-president; Mac Cosburn, president and Fred Crawford, 1st vice-president.

Meet seven month old Nell McTavish, son of Fraser and Cindy McTavish, 37 Church Street, Markham. Nell was the reserve grand champion baby at this year's Markham Fair. Here, he and his mother receive congratulations from Fair president, Mac Cosburn.

Photos
by
Jim Thomas

All members of the Lewis family were participants in the Heavy Horse Class at Markham Fair, Friday. Here, daughter Darlene, RR 1, Unionville, holds their prize-winning yearling Clydesdale. They also presented two beautiful trophies to class champions.

Morley Smalley, (right) and Larry Rose, both of RR 3, Mount Albert, purchased this grand champion 18 month old Simmental-Angus 4-H entry, at the Fair's Commercial Steer Auction, Saturday afternoon. Their top bid was $1.25 a pound. The owner is 19 year old Martha Henshaw of King City. The reserve champion, owned by Gary Grant of Stouffville, was bought by Jim Wicks for the United Co-operatives of Ontario.