SDSS benefit

STOUFFVILLE — More than sixty volleyball players, past and present, came home on Saturday to play in the Battle of the Decades tournament in aid of the Wayne Feasby fund. It was an all day affair which had no less than six teams playing for the title.

Coach Jim Rehill was delighted with the response of his ex-pupils, some of whom had travelled a fair distance for the event. One of Jim's earliest pupils at S.D.S.S. Herb Otto (class of 67) travelled from Ottawa to play with his old team mates Jim Hill, Paul Grose, Ian Montgomery, Laurie Buchland, Ron Castle, Dave Ferguson and Wayne Crowder. This was the team that won the Georgian Bay championship for three consecutive years in 64, 65 and 66 as well as being All Ontario Champs in 65.

The tournament had more than its fair share of 'greats'. Bruce Rodin, Allan and Larry Bacon and many others (turned up to give the tournament their touch of expertise, which made it such a great day for volleyball fans.

Wayne Feasby coached his old team (class of 74) to an inspired final against the 1971 team that included Larry and Allan Bacon. The final score was 15-7 and 15-12. Playing in Wayne's team were: Don Smith, Werner Ulbl, Wayne Flynn, Phil Kinton, Don Reesor, Bruce Rodin and Gary Fockler.

It was a long hard day for the players, who started the tournament at 9:45 a.m. and eventually wound it up somewhere around 9:00 p.m. The teams played a total of six games apiece throughout the day, which gave the audience virtually non-stop volleyball.

Final placings of the teams were as follows: First: Team 3 (circa 68-71) 10 points. Second place was tied between Team 4 (circa 72-74) and Team 6 (This year's team) with 6 points. Third place was another tie between Team 2 (circa 76-77) and Team 5 (circa 75-77) with 5 points. Last place was filled by Team 1 (circa 64-67) with 2 points.

It was left to Jim Rehill to sum up the days events and underline the spirit in which the tournament was held when he said "There are few schools who could have received such a response. Just about everyone came". Such is the ongoing spirit of S.D.S.S.

With still more money to come in, the event was considered to be reasonable from the point of view of gate receipts which totalled approximately $850.

Prior to the evening finishing it was suggested that as the event was so successful for both players and audience, why not make it an annual event? Nothing was decided, but no doubt Jim Rehill will be giving it much thought.

It was quite like old times at S.D.S.S. on Saturday. Wayne Feasby (centre) was coaching his old team from the class of 74. They managed to get into the final but lost to the superstars of the class of 71. Jim Holt

Bears win

STOUFFVILLE — In their home game on Friday evening the Neil Patrick Polar Bears played host to Bowmanville whom they disposed of with an impressive 7-1 win. This brings their season's record to six wins and three losses.

Brad May tallied four of the Bear's goals and Darron Baston worked hard to tally two goals, and two assists.

The Bears got off to a shaky start but were kept from falling behind by some pretty smart goaltending on the part of Scott Evans. It was Brad Tiley's pass to May that put the Bears ahead 1-0 late in the first period, with no reply from Bowmanville.

The visitors tied the score one minute into the second period, however, less than another minute passed before Darron Baston stole the puck and scored his first goal of the game. Midway through the period Brad May scored two goals short-handed, the first from Brad Tiley and Darron Baston and the second from Bruce Hachey and Darron Baston. The period ended with a comfortable 4-1 lead to the Bears.

At the 3:09 mark of the final period Kevin Blacktop scored his first goal of the season, on Darron Baston's rebound. It was a copy book pass from Danny Larmer that gave Brad May his fourth and final goal of the game.

Despite their five goal lead the Bears still wanted more and with only 12 seconds left in the game Darron Baston upped the tally to 7-1, on a play set up by Brad Tiley. The Bears will again meet Bowmanville in a return match on Saturday afternoon November 24, at Bowmanville.

Douglas Bassett says thank you.

Every week I expect the exceptional, from a very exceptional group of people — the people who publish and produce the Inland newspapers. Every week, they perform the exceptional. But when the now-famous train derailment took place less than half a mile from The Mississauga News and Inland printing plant — shutting us down completely — the people of Inland had to go beyond the exceptional. I am proud and pleased to acknowledge a literally superhuman effort — and to say sincere "Thank you!" to every one of them.

Lose 5

STOUFFVILLE — Despite their 5-4 loss to Cannington last Friday, the Pee wee 'B's still look capable of getting their act together. Unfortunately, time does not stand still and this is their fifth loss in a row. Considering that they can, and have, played some good hockey this season it is to be hoped that they can break out of their slump within their next game or two.

Despite their 4-3 lead going into the third period Cannington came back strong half way through and picked up the equalizer and insurance goals, within two minutes of each other.
