Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Rae are pictured here following their marriage, Sept. 22 in the Markham Missionary Church. The bride is the former Karen James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald James, Ninth Line North, Stouffville. The groom is the son of Mr. Garnet Rae and the late Mrs. Pauline Rae, Church Street, Stouffville. They are now residing in Markham.

Pretty bride

Lovely wedding

Beautiful fall flowers and candelabra decorated Markham Missionary Church, Sept. 22, 1979, for the wedding of Karen Grace James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald James, Ninth Line North, Stouffville, to Calvin Garnet Stanley Rae, son of Mr. Garnet Rae and the late Mrs. Pauline Rae, Church Street, Stouffville.

Rev. J. Allan Shantz officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Eric Pilkey played the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a white guana gown with wide flounce falling into a soft train. The yoke was of French lace and her finger-tip veil was caught by a lace-covered headpiece. She carried a cascade bouquet of orange roses, stephanotis and baby's breath with trailing ivy.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Gordon Roach, sister of the bride. The bridesmaids were Carolyn McDowell, friend of the bride; Teresa Rae, sister of the groom and Lois James, sister of the bride who also rendered three solos during the ceremony. They all wore floor-length gowns of guana in blending fall shades with matching flowers in their hair. They carried fans with autumn flower arrangements. The flower girl was Alison McKeown, cousin of the groom, who carried a basket of silk flowers and wore a floral floor-length eyelet gown in blending shades of beige and brown. The ring-bearer was Lee Wideman. The best man was Jim Wideman, both cousins of the groom. The ushers were Dennis James, Gordon Roach, and Andrew McKeown.

The reception was held at Sleepy Hollow Golf and Country Club where the bride's mother received in a floor-length gown of dusty green with beige lace yoke and a matching corsage. Later, the happy couple left on a honeymoon to the New England States.

Guests were present from Ottawa, London, Kitchener, Trenton, and other Ontario points.

Television Feature

Lotta Dempsey and a film crew from the C.B.C., visited Stouffville Dist. Secondary School, last week, to tape a program that will be aired, Dec. 26 at 6:30 p.m., and again New Year's Day. It's all about the "Hand In Hand" project here in Stouffville that staff teacher, Jim Rehill is making famous all across Canada. It concerns senior citizens and close co-operation between generations that he's proving can be accomplished. The C.B.C. show is called "From Now On" and will include Mr. Rehill along with Phys. Ed. Instructor Jan McBride and young people, David Rehill, Jane Brodie, David Dart and Doreen Monopoli. "I know Stouffville will be proud of these kids," Jim told The Tribune, "the program will change the attitudes of a lot of people". The successful "Hand In Hand" project was initiated in Stouffville eight years ago and has made a tremendous impact on young and old alike in the community.

Released from trap

Ernie Lee, R.R. 3, Stouffville, was angered, last week, when "Blue Boy", an adopted cat, came limping home, dragging a trap fastened to a front paw. The jaws of the device were so strong, it required assistance from his son, Cliff, to spread them apart. The animal was really in pain, Mr. Lee told The Tribune, so much pain, some people might have been prompted to destroy it. But not Ernie. He placed the pet in his car and took him to the Stouffville Veterinary Clinic where expert treatment and care was provided. "Blue Boy" is back home again, almost as good as new. But the memory of that trap is still fresh in Ernie's mind. He agrees, "there ought to be a law".

Ski site
