Driver

jailed

CEDAR VALLEY—A 24 year old Cedar Valley resident has been sentenced to sixty days in jail after pleading guilty to charges of driving while disqualified; driving an unregistered vehicle and failing to appear.

Donald Vaughan had entered a plea of guilty to two charges before Judge S.M. Harris, then heard the Crown Attorney tell the court how he'd been stopped by police one year ago while driving a vehicle that wasn't registered. His trial was set for July 17, but the accused failed to attend.

"You can't ignore a court order," Judge Harris told Vaughan, "when a trial date is set, you're obligated to be here."

YORK REGION—Between Nov. 1 and Nov. 30, 1979, the Children's Aid Society of York Region, re-opened its adoption intake to persons willing to accept healthy, problem-free boys and girls under five years of age.

During that period, sufficient applications were received to meet the Society's needs. Because of this, no more will be accepted, either in the present or the foreseeable future in this particular category.

However, the C.A.S. will continue to accept applications from those people wishing to adopt children with special needs. These include those of mixed racial origin as well as children with physical and emotional handicaps or learning difficulties.

If any change in policy is approved, the public will be informed through this newspaper, a spokesman for the Children's Aid Society said.
