Dies at age 107

By Jennie Johnson
GLEN MAJOR—Annie Stewart, believed to be Durham Region's eldest resident, passed away peacefully, March 13 at Fairview Lodge, Whitby. She was 107. Born at Glen Major, Jan. 15, 1873, she leaves one sister, Jessie Vanluven, also of Fairview Lodge; four nieces, Annie Dunstall and Evelyn Davidson, Toronto; May Brown, Marmora and Anne Davidson, Oshawa and two nephews, Gordon Stewart, Oshawa and Bill Stewart, Belleville. She was predeceased by five sisters and two brothers.

Mrs. George Rapsay, a resident in the area several years, passed away March 11 at Cheltenham Nursing Home, Toronto. She was 96.

Recent visitors with Mrs. Ralph Faulkner were Mr. and Mrs. Percy Pugh, Havelock; Mrs. Graydon Taylor and Mrs. Beverley Taylor, Oshawa.

Anne Johnson and Leslie Allems, visited at the Johnson farm recently and enjoyed cross-country skiing.

Mr. and Mrs. Brian Hingston and family were in Toronto one evening last week and enjoyed a birthday dinner in honor of his mother, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alec Hingston.

Edith Gill is home following a two-week stay with her daughter, Mrs. Steven Meyers of Downsview.

Service

Need a taxi? Then call (toll free) 889-1155 or 889-5477 and a car will be dispatched to Whitchurch-Stouffville as quickly as possible.

Mayor Eldred King informed The Tribune this week that a verbal agreement had been worked out with Avenue Taxi at Thornhill, to answer Town calls. Avenue isn't licensed to operate in this area, however, but the service is needed, the mayor explained.

The firm has a fleet of 100 cars, all radio-equipped and operating round-the-clock. While the operator has agreed to respond, Mayor King said short trips would be out of the question.

Borrowed

One minute it was there, the next it was gone; someone had stolen the Bible from the witness box at Newmarket Provincial Court.

Judge F.D. White had instructed the clerk to swear in a man for testimony, but he couldn't. The Good Book was nowhere to be found. So a recess was called until another could be located.

"I just hope whoever took it," reads it, commented a counsellor, "especially the part that says, 'thou shalt not steal.'"

Dogs

STOUFFVILLE

The Town's agreement with Kennel Inn, Aurora for control of delinquent dogs, expires April 30. However, it may be necessary to have the present service extended if no successor is found. Mayor Eldred King told The Tribune.

Last week, Council met privately with Ann Barrett, the animal control officer in Uxbridge Township, but nothing resulted. Acting Clerk Ken Aida said talks with Mrs. Barrett were for information purposes only.
