18. Motorcycles

Ten-speed beauty.

It's a stylish boulevard cruiser, a fast-accelerating street machine, a smooth-running highway tourer. It's the new CB900C, Honda's largest and most sophisticated custom-styled motorcycle. Only Honda gives you 1980's most startling feature: a dual-range intermediate gearbox to transform the five-speed to ten-speed. Low-range gives you quick acceleration in town, high-range saves gas on a highway tour. When you combine the beautiful custom looks with the air forks and air shocks, you've got the best looking, best riding, big motorcycle ever designed. The 1980 Honda CB900C. Quite possibly the most powerful and beautiful ten-speed you've ever seen.
