Pastor clarifies report

Dear Sir:
Thank you for your report, "Reject Sex Education in Schools." (The Tribune, June 12, 1980), which was essentially accurate and fair in its reflection of the message Dr. Blair Shaw and I brought to the parents of the York Region in the Aurora meeting.

There are two points which do need clarification, however. First, let me be clear that we harbour absolutely no personal animosity or ill-will toward anyone, including everyone who is part of the government educational monopoly. We are opposed to that monopoly itself which has grown into a dehumanizing, destructive tyranny incapable by its very nature of responding as the "servant" education ought to be to the consumer, the parents, of our free and pluralistic society.

The government educational monopoly demonstrates all the negative consequences of any monopoly in goods and services, namely:

- (1.) The quality of the product goes down;
- (2.) The costs go out of sight;
- (3.) The arrogance of the elite who run the tyranny, becomes insufferable.

The only civilized solution to the increased social frictions created by this suffocating bureaucratic monstrosity, is to replace that monopoly with alternatives, (philosophically and religiously), made available to parents with economic and social justice for all by such a mechanism as the "educational voucher." (The N.D.P. of Ontario has recently endorsed that 6 year old Renaissance Ontario proposal).

I know of no problem in the present government school system that the dynamics of a free and competitive market would not soon correct. Secondly, I have never told anyone to "go to Hell." Each and every individual is personally responsible for the choices that determine one's eternal destiny.

Even "God is not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance."

What I did say, and do say to those who are responsible for teaching and influencing children by the "damnable heresies" of Darwin and the permissiveness of Freud, is as your report noted, in the spirit of Jesus as recorded in Matthew 18:6-9. Jesus makes it clear that whoever is responsible for destroying the faith of children by such "doctrines of demons" will be thrown into the fire of Hell. (Whether that be the false prophets of permissiveness who propagate these fantasies, or the Trustees who endorse such programs of instruction in the public schools, or parents who sacrifice their children to the gods of "affluence" and "ease" by sending them into such a destructive educational environment because it is "free," or Ministers of the Gospel who condone such wicked child-molestation by their silence!)

What I said was that whoever is responsible for such an offensive anti-Christian approach to the teaching of human sexuality "can go to Hell with their sex education!" And may I add on the authority of Jesus' words, that they will be "thrown into the fire of hell" unless they repent and repudiate such wickedness.

May God have mercy on us all and awaken us to repentance and to a renewal of our society based on the dynamic disciplines of our Judeo-Christian heritage!

Sincerely,
Ken Campbell,
President.
