

"Girl Next Door"

Piano excellence will aid career

Grade 8 diploma

By JIM THOMAS
STOUFFVILLE — The Missionary Church is important to 16 year old Darlene Good, Main Street East. She seldom misses a service and, when needed, assists with the junior congregation and Sunday School.

"The church has always been part of our family," she says, adding a word of praise for Jim Clubine and his work with the young people.

Darlene's our "Girl Next Door".

A student in Grade 11 at Stouffville High, she hopes to go on to university, then teach at the secondary level. English and Art are her favorite subjects.

Darlene has her Grade 8 conservatory certificate in piano and her Grade 2 in theory. She plans to complete Grade 10, feeling this accomplishment will be a help in her chosen profession. Her teacher is Doris Taylor, Tindale Road.

Darlene has played in church, at Parkview Home and in various recitals. She also has her own guitar and attributes any skill along this line to instruction received from Lorne Boardway, principal at Summitview School.

Since last August, she's worked as a part-time cashier at the A&P in Stouffville. Other activities include water skiing, downhill and cross-country skiing, cycling, crocheting and sewing. Water-skiing's her favorite.

Next month, she, her mother and sister Cheryl are planning an eight-day vacation in Florida. Darlene's been there once before. She's also been east as far as New Brunswick.

The family has a trailer near Peterborough where they spend a part of the summer.

Good kids suffer

Editor: It bothered me to read in the March 19 Tribune that dances at Summitview School, Friday evenings, had been permanently cancelled.

This event was enjoyed by dozens of Stouffville kids, partly because there seems to be so little for this age group to do on a Friday night.

What bothered me more than the actual decision were the reasons that brought it about — threat of personal harm and property damage.

I'd like to know how many threatening calls were received — two, four, six, a dozen? If the number was small and with an awful lot of good kids out there, the executive should have continued on, ignoring the noisy minority.

By quitting, the good suffer as well as the bad; everybody loses.

I feel the organizers should reconsider, if not immediately then maybe in September.

Easter Seal Campaign Residents are reminded to mail in their Easter Seal donation as soon as possible. The Lions Club goal this year is $3,000. Payments are also being received at the Bank of Nova Scotia for those who didn't obtain an envelope in the mail.

Under Bill 82

Opportunities are equal

Dear Editor: How will Bill 82 effect the Learning Disabled Child in York Region? The legislation will be implemented, Sept. 1, 1985.

At the present time, such children have only the right to accommodation but not necessarily equal opportunity to education. Physically, the child may be occupying a space but mentally, he or she may not be learning. Under Bill 82, the Minister of Education will have a duty to provide free and appropriate education for all children in Ontario.

If a school board in 1985 cannot provide a suitable program, it must assist the parent or guardian in acquiring an appropriate placement. There will be special appeal boards available to which parents can turn if they do not agree with the board's decision.

Until passage of this Bill, parents of a child difficult to service, could be asked to remove that boy or girl from the public system and make other arrangements. A private school can cost between $4,000 and $8,000 a year. Only children of parents able to afford this, would be properly educated.

Bill 82 will be the subject for discussion at a meeting, April 15 at 8 p.m., in Crosby Heights Senior School, 305 Crosby Heights, Richmond Hill. Speakers will include M.P.P. Alf Stong, York Centre; Rosemary Underwood, Executive Director, Ontario Association for Children with Learning Disabilities; Jack Cronin, Supt. of Separate Schools; Frank Wilkinson, Supt. of Public Schools and a member of the York County Board of Education, opposed to the Bill.

An interesting discussion is assured.

Sincerely, Judy Borst, Cobblestone Drive, Thornhill

Energy conscious

STOUFFVILLE — If there's a major energy crisis in the area some years from now, it won't be the fault of students at Summitview Public School.

Not those from the present Grade seven class, anyway.

The boys and girls showed themselves to be ardent listeners during three separate presentations on energy and pollution, by Marilyn Thompson of the Ministry of Energy and Resources. By use of an animated film, cards and speech, Miss Thompson made the students familiar with energy as both a natural commodity and a renewable one. With the latter, especially oil, coal, wood, gas, and others there was also a responsibility to see they were used properly, and that their benefits were not wasted, nor their by-products left to pollute the air.

It was also shown that the abundant domestic energy everyone relies on and takes for granted, is not endless, as the man in the movie discovered when all his household gadgets quit at the same time.

"As the people in the film found out, they were responsible for their resources."
