

Pride of ownership - a 1956 Chevrolet Bel-Air

Stephen Bruce, R. R. 3, Stouffville, is proud of his 1956 Chevrolet Bel-Air, and no wonder. It's a beauty. Imported from Georgia.

It's in showroom condition, inside and out. For insurance purposes, the car's value has been placed at $7,000. Jim Thomas.

Country House Tour

UXBRIDGE — Homes, both historic and modern, will be featured on country tour, sponsored by the U.C.W. of Trinity United Church May 28, from 1 to 5 p.m.

A total of six unique residences, from Goodwood in the south to Zephyr in the north, will be visited.

Keith Watson had their home designed to reap the full benefit of the sun.

Rare antiques

WHITCHURCH — Household items, many classified as "rare collectable pieces", will be sold May 23 at an auction on the property of Ashmount Farm, Conc. 5, Whitchurch - Stouffville, south of the Bloomington Road. Sale time is 12 noon with Pollard Auction Services of Sutton in charge.

condition, an Edison cylinder gramophone, several early kerosene lamps, an authentic porcelain barber chair, a number of original Aladdin lamps in amber, pink and green, a gingerbread clock and a Kresge cash register.

The modern premises of Mrs. Madeline Bynoe and Dr. Ramsay Macdonald, features a pond and waterfall.

Early Canadian atmosphere, best expresses the century home of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Hooper, while Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mullen "combine hospitality, family living and entertainment" in their abode.

Tickets, ($5), for the event, are available by calling 852-6213. You may choose your own starting point, and, organizers say, don't forget to bring a pair of slippers.

Sure to attract attention is an eight-piece carved walnut dining room suite, a Royal Vienna gold china tea set, a cranberry hanging hall lamp, orchid blue luncheon dishes, over 100 years old and in perfect

For antique car buffs, there's a 1915 Model "T" Ford with brass radiator, a 1951 Jaguar and a 1964 Thunderbird. These automobiles will be offered subject to a low reserve.

A distinctive twin stairway highlights Mr. and Mrs. Jerrold Paxton's residence. Jean and

Scholarships

BALLANTRAE — Two students of Ballantrae Public School will be going on to college this fall by virtue of scholarships announced this week.

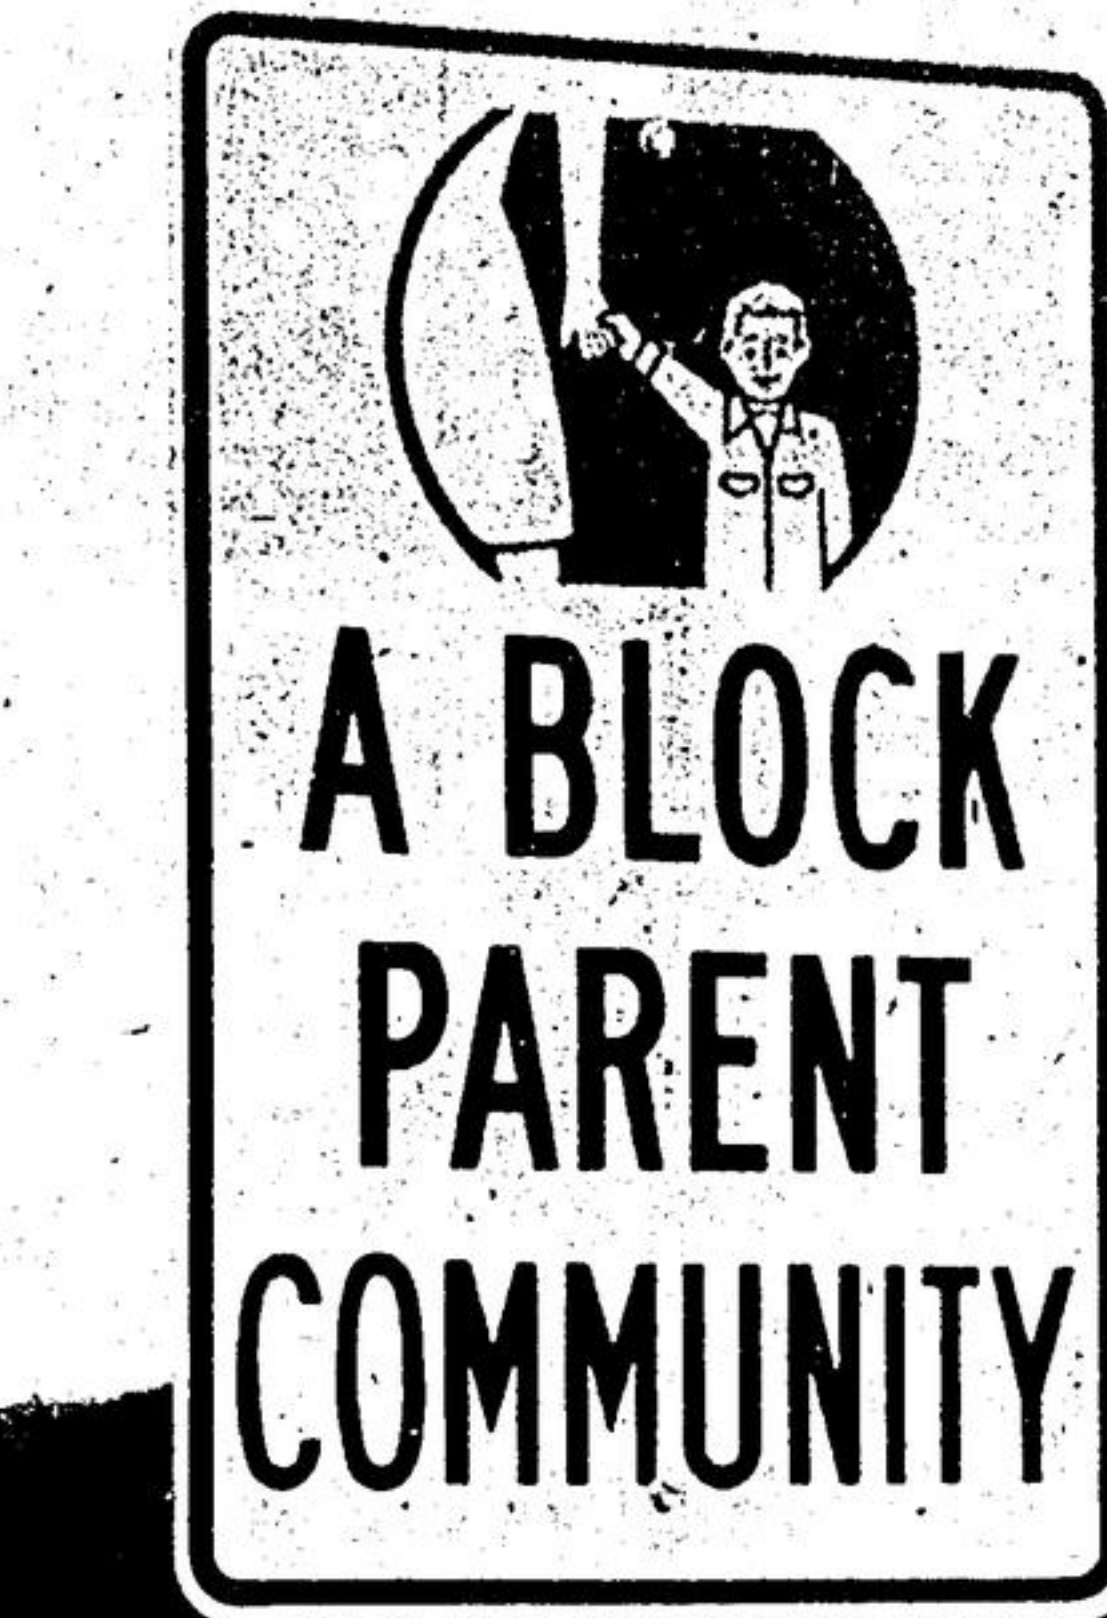

Ballantrae, starting in Kindergarten and advancing through the system. His scholarship is said to be worth $1,400. He'll commute to and from home.

Ken Morrison, son of William and Norene Morrison, will be enrolled in Grade 9 at Pickering College, Newmarket.

Simon started in at Ballantrae part-way through Grade 5, moving to the area with his parents from Oakville. He too will commute daily.

Simon Murfitt, son of Jerry and Brenda Murfitt, will study for his Grade 8 at St. Andrew's, Aurora.

By co-incidence, both boys live on the same street, only four doors apart on High Point Drive.

Parents unite

The hamlet of Goodwood is now associated with the Block Parent Program. This means children in any kind of difficulty can seek assistance at homes displaying the block Parent sign in their windows. Jim Thomas.

School move is challenge

CLAREMONT — Stan Todd, principal of Claremont Public School, sees his new posting to Joseph Gould Sr. School in Uxbridge, as a definite challenge.

had a taste of his new post, setting up time tables and teaching schedules, in between classes at Claremont.

Mr. Todd, at Claremont four years, leaves at the end of the school term in June.

A native of Churchill, near Barrie, Todd taught at Frenchman's Bay, where he was vice-principal, and at Fairmont Public School in Scarborough.

"I'm looking forward to it," he said of the move. "I won't be teaching and will be able to concentrate more on the administrative end of things".

He has a Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Education degrees from the University of Toronto.

He said that, while at Claremont, he combined both, but the new Uxbridge position will allow him the luxury of a vice-principal to help out. He is without such a staff member at Claremont.

He, his wife and family reside in Goodwood. Three of his children, will be attending Joseph Gould School with their father.

Principal Todd already has

And, his successor? Well, why not maintain a pattern? She's Mrs. Mary Hearn, also from Frenchman's Bay.

Sunset Boulevard

More homes

STOUFFVILLE — A proposed 37-lot subdivision in the area of Sunset Boulevard and Clarke Street, Stouffville, has won the support of Town Planning Board.

A pumping station on the south side of Sunset Boulevard, will be re-located on a site where it can offer better service.

A project of Forsite Homes Limited, it will accommodate sixteen lots in the first phase. The second phase, containing 21 lots, requires re-zoning of the Official Plan from industrial to residential.

On a motion by Councillor Wilf Morley, the draft plan was approved with the proviso that it be referred to the engineer for comments.

"It's important for us to proceed with this," stated Mayor Eldred King, "it's in our best interests".

Former pastor

Service was held Monday afternoon from the Egan Funeral Home, Bolton, for Rev. Ivan Kennedy, following his passing, May 8 at Grace Hospital, Toronto.

regarded in both communities.

Rev. Kennedy, a retired United Church minister, served the two-point charge of Claremont and Brougham from 1939 to 1949. He was highly Besides his wife, the former Margaret Hill, he is survived by a daughter, Margaret (Mrs. Robert Briere) of Don Mills; one son, Bruce in Edmonton, Alberta; six grandchildren and ten great-grandchildren. He was predeceased by a son Reginald. Interment was made at Laurel Hill Cemetery, Bolton.

Mt. Zion teens church leaders

MOUNT ZION — Many churches in rural Ontario communities are experiencing problems. Some are already closed. Others are on the verge of closing.

for nine's and ten's while Beth Carson teaches the 11's and 12's. Both Chuck and Beth are seventeen.

Persons seeking a remedy for church attendance anemia, would do well to learn more about the program established within the Sunday School at Mount Zion. It's run almost entirely by young people with excellent results.

There's a young people's class too. Seven adults take a regular turn in a teaching role including - Debbie Wilson, Joan Wilson, Evelyn Jones, Shirley Jamieson, Gladys Fiss, Jeanine Carson and Mary Empringham.

On a given Sunday, it's not unusual to have up to 33 children and teens in classes that range from kindergarten age through to fourteen. Brian Jones, just 17, is the superintendent. The secretary is Sharyn Fiss and the treasurer, Beth Carson.

Should any one of the younger teachers be unavoidably absent, there's always a mother "in the wings", to step in, Brian said.

Like in most Sunday Schools, the teen drop-out rate was also a concern at Mount Zion, Evelyn Jones told The Tribune. So, four years ago, a new plan was initiated, giving the young people supervisory roles. If a family moved away or a student went on to college, a successor was quickly found to fill the post. Soon, they were looking forward to advancements and accepted the added responsibilities with enthusiasm.

Sunday School at Mount Zion, convenes at ten. However, rather than leave at eleven, many of the teachers remain for regular worship. This increases the size of the congregation.

During the year, the young people also conduct four services, one on Christian Family Sunday; two at Christmas and a White Gift worship.

It's a co-operative program, Brian explained. "We all give each other a hand". When meetings are held to plan various programs, the children are included. "We all put in our two cents worth," he said.

Speaking for both himself and his associates, Brian said there's a feeling of joy and enthusiasm within the Sunday School, from the youngest to the oldest. Admittedly busy, what with high school, Jr. Farmers and other activities, Brian said he has no problem coping with this added responsibility. "If you enjoy doing it, you'll find the time".

Following graduation from P.D.H.S., he plans to go on to Trent University. But stepping out from his role as superintendent, will not leave a vacancy. There'll be someone ready (and willing) to take his place.

"Fun land" opens soon

CLAREMONT — Pleasure Valley, Uxbridge Township's "fun land", located on the east side of the Brock Road between Claremont and Coppins Corners, should attract thousands of visitors this summer. That's what owner Gary Convery is hoping as facilities are put in order for an official opening, May 18.

Until mid-June, Pleasure Valley is open only on weekends. After that, it's open daily.

The site, covering 600 acres of rural countryside, is actually a year-round endeavor with cross-country skiing a prime attraction during the winter. Also, the roller-skating 'trails' have been open since Easter.

Liz Heron, the project's assistant manager, says she's pleased with the personnel on staff. Many are back from last year and knowledgeable about all aspects of the operation. New employees will be selected from applications now on hand.

With the approach of warmer weather, activities include - a 400 foot water slide; horseback and hay rides and a children's playground.

Visitors, if they wish, can pay a flat rate and use all the facilities for the entire day. However, if they're interested in single attractions, an individual fee is charged. This is exclusive of the horseback trail rides that take half a day. Cost for this is $20 per person. Seasons' passes are available at $35 each. There are also special rates for groups and parties.

A new chalet has been erected and there's a petting zoo for the kids.

For additional information, the number to call is 649-3879.

Sudden death saddens town

STOUFFVILLE — The Stouffville area was shocked and saddened, Monday, when news was received of the sudden passing of Bert Taylor, Sunset Boulevard.

Mr. Taylor, 55, died in Scarborough Centenary Hospital after suffering a heart attack, Friday.

He is survived by his wife, the former Helen Law. Service will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m., in Stouffville United Church with pastors Rev. Cecil Tiller and Rev. John Hamilton in charge. Friends will be received at the O'Neill Funeral Chapel to-day from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Brooklin Spring Fair

BROOKLIN — Brooklin's Spring Fair (June 4 to 7), has been upgraded to Class 'B' status this year.

In keeping with this, the show itself has been upgraded too. Events planned include a Miss Brooklin Fair Pageant; a pony and horse competition for children; a Morgan horse show; a tractor and 4-wheel drive vehicle pull; a dog obedience competition; a tennis tournament; an Appaloosa horse show; a performance by the Trans-Canada Hell Drivers; a light and heavy horse show; a pancake breakfast; a Canadian and American quarter-horse show; a quilt display in the arena; a bed and bathtub race; harness racing; an old time fiddlers' contest; a tug-of-war between Durham Regional and Metro Toronto Police; sheep and cattle judging and a giant midway.

The Queen of Brooklin Fair will be selected on Thursday evening, June 4. At the same time, the official opening will take place with Regional Chairman Gary Herrema doing the honors.

Fifteen year old Tracey Convery of R. R. 1, Goodwood, is "right at home" on roller skates. And for good reason. Her father owns and operates Pleasure Valley, east of the Brock Road and south of Coppins Corners. Jim Thomas.