

"Girl Next Door"

A leader in athletics at Stouffville High

By JIM THOMAS
STOUFFVILLE

Sixteen year old Mary Griffiths is undoubtedly one of Stouffville High's most prominent athletes. In the two years spent at S.D.S.S., she's been a part of just about every sport including volleyball, track and field, cross-country, the relay team, the list goes on and on. Her interests, however, go far beyond the playing field and gymnasium. Mary's a member of the senior band, sings in the school choir, served two years on the athletic council, played on the Midget girls' softball team, is manager of the senior Spartans volleyball team and is a member of the Altar Guild at Stouffville's Christ Anglican Church.

She's our "Girl Next Door". Mary enjoys her association with the church. Her only regret is that she didn't join earlier. In addition to the Altar Guild, she assists with the nursery.

She's a part-time employee on the staff of the Stouffville Nursing Home.

Mary's a firm believer in physical fitness and it's not unusual to see her jogging along the streets of Stouffville at six in the morning.

A student in Grade 11, she enjoys all her subjects, especially English. She describes staff teacher Jim Rehill as "my second father". "He makes me feel special," she says. It was David Rehill who encouraged her to join the Anglican Church, a move she's never regretted.

sister, Margie; an older sister, Liz and two brothers, George and Lewellyn. Mary and Margie are look-alikes and people often confuse them, she says. But neither seems to mind.
