Reason to be proud

Dear Mr. Thomas: Graduation Exercises at Pickering High School, Nov. 6, I wish to congratulate you and your newspaper for the publicity given this event.

The staff and parents had every reason to be proud of the students on stage receiving awards. They are a credit to their generation. While perhaps unfair to single out any one person, I thought the valedictory address delivered by Tim Zimmerman (with his accompanying poem) was excellent. This young man, in my opinion, symbolizes all the good things that happen at Pickering High.

Again, congratulations on giving the Commencement the editorial space it deserved.

Joseph Lavigne, R.R. 2, Claremont.

Blind girl inspired all

Dear Editor: I noticed you used the word "inspiration" to describe blind student Diane Micaly's effect on the audience attending Pickering High School's Commencement, Nov. 6.

The description was indeed appropriate. For a girl to overcome such an affliction, obtain her honor graduation diploma and go on to university is certainly an inspiration to us all.

I was pleased your newspaper saw fit to comment on Diane's accomplishments. It goes to show that determination can conquer all.

Sincerely,
Dorothy Molnar,
R.R. 2, Pickering.

Uxbridge Graduation

"Thrilled"

Dear Mr. Thomas: Commencement Exercises seem to bring out the best in today's young people. Or is it that we parents can't see past the jeans, the shirts and the sweaters to the real persons hidden beneath?

I was thrilled to be in the audience at Uxbridge High School's graduation ceremony, Nov. 7, not as a parent but merely an interested spectator.

While we may often criticize our youth (as the generation before me likely criticized us), the event, Saturday evening, strengthened my feeling that our future's in good hands.

And while I'm writing (it may never happen again), a word of praise also for the Uxbridge School Band and their leader Mr. Sulev. Also a thank you to Donna Bernhardt for her beautiful solo; all in all, a very enjoyable evening.

Helen McGregor,
R.R. 2, Uxbridge.

Fine event

Dear Jim: My congratulations to your paper's coverage of the annual 4-H awards presentations at Newmarket, Nov. 5.

I may be wrong, but from what I've read elsewhere, I believe The Tribune was the only news media in York Region to attend this very important event — at least I saw no one but yourself taking pictures.

These young people are to be complimented on their accomplishments. Their parents too are to be commended for their interest. Most of all, I believe Phyllis McMaster deserves praise for the way she handles and promotes this program. The cooperation of all three has made for a very successful year.

Sincerely,
Irene Keogh,
R.R. 3, Newmarket.

Water debate is boring

Dear Editor: I appreciate the fact you owe it to the community to publish stories of community interest. However, I'm wondering how much interest there is (any more) in the landfill site and related water concerns.

become downright boring. Besides, no one knows who's telling the truth.

Far be it for me to tell you how to run a newspaper, but I feel you'd be doing everyone a big favor by excluding Stouffville's water problems (?) from the Front Page for a few weeks.

Sincerely,
Edgar Hayhurst,
Main Street,
Stouffville.

School board set example

Dear Jim: I was pleased to see that York County School Boards (Catholic and Public), kept students in school, Nov. 11.

they had a program to benefit the day.

Congratulations York County. I hope other boards will follow your example next year.

Sincerely,
Helen Garrett,
RR 4, Stouffville.

Blind lead blind

Dear Mr. Thomas: Reader Carole Freedman finds Jim Irving's "interview" with Mrs. Coughlan "confusing". I agree, and this is not his first "confusing" article re the dumpsite and water pollution.

Think positive, folks, close your eyes, keep quiet and jump - Messrs. Goodwin, Goodhead, Chusid, Rovers, Weinberg and Irving will applaud you!

Sincerely,
R. I. Harris,
R.R. 1, Gormley.
