

Late Elsie Pringle

Respected educator

MARKHAM — A private family service was held Monday from the Dixon-Garland Funeral Home for Elsie Pringle, Joseph Street, Markham, following her passing, May 8 in Scarborough Centenary Hospital.

A teacher 40 years, she was highly respected by staff associates and students alike. This was indicated during a reception in her honor following her announced retirement from East York Collegiate when she was accorded repeated standing ovations.

Born and educated in Markham, Elsie Pringle accepted her first teaching position at Mt. Joy Public School. Later, she obtained her M.A. degree in English and joined the staff at J.S. Bell High School in Long Branch. From there, she moved to East York Collegiate as Asst. Head of the English Department.

While her abilities were recognized by others in the profession, a personal modesty prevailed, a characteristic that never changed. She was looking forward with great anticipation to the Mt. Joy School reunion planned for June 19.
