

Keith Award to Lucknow girl

Mac and Fern Keith, R.R. 1, Unionville, were active participants in the Hereford Show at Markham Fair where Mac, the foreman at Almira Hereford Farms, served as ringmaster. Here they present their Sr. Showmanship Trophy to Carol Rintoul (centre) of Lucknow, Ont.

Senior hoops best

MARKHAM — A steady line of contenders, including Miss Markham Fair, (twice) wiggled and waggled in every direction, but they couldn't disturb or dethrone the reigning champion, Glen Baron, of Burrows Hall, Scarborough, in the 16-and-over category of the Markham Fair hula hoop contest.

Baron, a greying, slightly paunchy man in his forties, easily beat out the 15 or so people — including five-year-old Danny Dellafortuna, of Scarborough, who managed to get into the act — who kept climbing up on the stage and challenging him.

Keeping his hoop in orbit with an almost effortless motion, while all those about him shook and shimmied in frenzied fashion, Baron regained the crown he tied for last year, when he simply ran out of challengers.

In a preliminary to the Baron runaway, four young women in the same age category, who all hooped it up for five straight minutes, were each given a ribbon for their performance.

The winners in the other categories, were as follows: Six and under — Stacey Morrow, East York; Seven and under — Jennifer Dellafortuna, Scarborough; Douglas Green, Toronto; Leah Lumley, Markham; Eric Monteith, Sharon; Seven and eight — Melanie Thurgood, Richmond Hill; 9-10 — Julia Dare, Markham; 10-11 — Diane Lowrey, Scarborough; 11-12 — Steven Clark, Toronto; 12-13 — Bonnie Allen, Markham; 13-15 — Christy Allen, Pickering; 16 — Richard McCobmack, West Hill.

Unionville School student Fair's top speller

MARKHAM "I read a lot." That's the way Jeanne McKane, the youthful winner of the Markham Fair spelling bee for grade five and six students, summed it up when asked about her prowess in the spelling department.

Jennifer Galloway, of Franklin Street Public School, Markham, by correctly spelling the word, "persuaded," after they both had failed. Jeanne also admitted that spelling was her favorite subject.

ter another. Russell, Jay Lilley and Nicole Sargent, both of Franklin Street School, were among the last six contenders.

The fierceness of the competition was at times matched only by the intensity of the competitors when they went down to defeat. They didn't accept it lightly, and their faces showed it. However, a few pats from their parents and they were back taking it all in again.

Some of the words the competitors had the most difficulty with were, gorgeous, vacuum, rhythm, linoleum, prophet and prairie. However, if three people in a row missed on a word, all three contestants were allowed to continue.

That happened several times, even among the finalists, so that not one person went through the spelling bee word perfect.
