

Zoo holds Christmas Treats Walk

A popular Christmas tradition returns this year as the Metro Toronto Zoo hosts its seventh annual Christmas Treats Walk. The walk will again be led by zoo Board Chairman, Ron Barbaro and this year it will take place on Monday, Dec. 27, beginning at 10:30 a.m.

Those wishing to participate in the festive walk are asked to meet in Littlefootland, the new children's area of the zoo. From there, Mr. Barbaro will lead walkers through Eurasia, commenting on the various animals found in that area of the zoo. Animals that will be visited include Siberian tigers, Chinese leopards, Dromedary camels, reindeer, Bactrian camels, Yak, Snow leopards, Barbary apes, Japanese macaques and West Caucasian tur. All of these animals will receive special "treats" such as meaty bones for the tigers and leopards. Highlights of the tour will be the edible "Christmas trees" in the ape and macaque exhibits. Visitors will also be able to meet with the zoo's young reindeer, as they are walked by keepers. After touring Eurasia the group will head to the Polar Bear exhibit where there will be a special feeding for the bears, Sanikiluaq and Bisitlik.

To finish the walk, Mr. Barbaro will take visitors to the Elephant enclosure to view the zoo's family of eight African elephants. The new Elephant House will also be open. The zoo is open from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., with last admission at 3:30 p.m. Prices are: adults, $3.50; seniors and youths, $1.50; children (5-11 years), $1; and four and under, are free. Children must be accompanied by an adult. The zoo is located on Meadowvale Road in Scarborough, just north of Hwy. 401.

And the band played on

The Markham Concert Band's second annual Christmas Concert came in two installments — one at the Markham Community Centre Sunday evening and the other Monday night at St. Patrick's Church. Mistress of ceremonies for both concerts was Bunty Webb. — Sjoerd Witteveen

They'll wrap it

Members of the Toronto ORT (Organization for Rehabilitation and Training) and the Crusade Against Leukemia are providing a gift wrapping service at Markville Shopping Centre. The booth is set up outside Eaton's on the second level. The group charges a "nominal fee" for gift wrapping and supplies the wrapping paper, donated for the occasion, free. The service will be in full operation daily from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. until Dec. 24. All proceeds will go children's education and medical research.

May your Christmas be abundant with all good things. Thanks.
