

"Girl Next Door"

Lori's looking for secretarial position

By Jim Thomas.
STOUFFVILLE
— Heard of a rock

group called "High Voltage"?
— No, they didn't pack Maple Leaf Gardens or play at the C.N.E. They performed locally and 19-year-old Lori Irving, North Street, Stouffville, was part of the vocal back-up.

It was good while it lasted, admits Lori, denoting the fact the band's no longer active. However, she's still interested in the music. "AC-DC" are favorites.

Lori's our "Girl Next Door".

It was nine years ago that she moved, with her parents to Stouffville from Scarborough. While the town, she says, lacks many activities for teens, she never wants to go back. Her mother and dad, she explains, were seeking a rural environment, a thing she appreciates just as much.

Although presently job-hunting (a secretarial position would do just fine), Lori recently spent four months at the Seneca College Office in Stouffville. She obtained the position through branch co-ordinator Gayle Atkinson.

Other interests include horseback riding, downhill skiing and shopping.

Lori admits to being "a summer person". For this reason, she enjoyed three weeks spent in Florida and a holiday trip to Myrtle Beach. Some day, she hopes to visit Hawaii and California.

As much as Lori likes Stouffville, she claims it needs additional programs for teens including a movie theatre and a roller-rink. She and boyfriend Doug Bell enjoy rock concerts and an occasional movie, but all in Toronto.

Right now, a job holds top priority. Anyone requiring a full-time secretary, (who's equally good with figures), call 640-4354.
