

Stouffville merchants endorse discounts for town's card-carrying senior citizens

STOUFFVILLE — Up until recently, senior citizens in both York and Durham Regions, have been fragmented, divided into individual groups and organizations. Frank Jenkinson of Claremont is changing all that. As chairman of the Ajax-Pickering Seniors Council, he sees the need for seniors to have a "single voice", speaking for a unified portion of the population. Up to now, it's been "45 whispers", he says, with reference to the 45 small groups scattered throughout the Region of Durham. One of his main projects is a seniors' discount program whereby persons holding wallet-size identification cards, are accorded reductions of from ten to twenty percent from participating merchants. To date, close to 1,500 cards have been issued and more than 1,000 have agreed to take part. Mr Jenkinson describes the response as "fantastic". "Both (the seniors and the merchants) will benefit," he says.

Anyone wishing more information on how to obtain a seniors' identification card can call Frank Jenkinson at 649-2842. This week, Mr Jenkinson has provided The Tribune with list of Stouffville merchants participating in the Seniors' Discount Program. These follow: Ann's Fabrics, 27 Main Street East (10% off all fabric, one meter and over); John Lord Books, 29 Main Street East (10% off all books other than text-books and sale items); Stouffville Bowling Centre, 55 Main Street East (fifty cents off on all bowling. "Spring Valley" Bedroom Grouping by Hooker

Casual and comfortable! These best describe the "Spring Valley" bedroom grouping by Hooker. Bold contemporary styling blended with the impressive beauty of grainy oak. Clean simple lines that bring out the natural look with soft rounded edges to drawers and mouldings shaped by hand. The slightly recessed wood pulls complete the contemporary all-wood effect. There is also an unusual styling touch with thin oak strips laminated to form the faces for doors and drawers. For that final touch, a natural flat finish was applied to highlight the variations of the rich oak grain. So if you have a yearning for the natural look in decorating, indulge with the casual elegance of "Spring Valley".
