Travel team promoted

Stonehouse House of Travel major Mosquitos opened the season with a tough game against 'A' division Woodbridge. Stonehouse, who moved up on the strength of their second place finish in the 'B' division last year were also the division cup winners.

Woodbridge, as is their custom, played a strong physical game and were first to score, but were held 1-1 just before half time on a nice scoring effort by Tonio Trentadue.

Second half pressure forced Stouffville into making two costly defensive errors that ended in goals for Woodbridge who broke through the defensive line on several occasions, only to be thwarted by the fine goalkeeping of Aaron McWilliams.

For coach Casey Van Maris, the game was an indication that his team will do well in their new division.

Excellence is never an accident. It results from careful planning and sensitive execution by dedicated and expert professionals.

Excellence inspires. It offers a model to be emulated. It calls forth the finest in each individual. Its pursuit demands vision, sacrifice and commitment.

Excellence is contagious.

Excellence in education is a planned, rigorous and sound curriculum pursued in a supportive and concerned environment under the caring direction of a trained, sensitive and demanding faculty.

Pickering College, as Ontario's second oldest independent school, has a tradition of excellence. It offers a balanced academic program leading to university entrance through Ontario diplomas and through the prestigious and more demanding International Baccalaureate. With 1 teacher for every 9 pupils, the College uses individual counselling and academic guidance to follow up a complete grading each and every week. Comprehensive clubs and sports programs complete the school regimen.

Bene proxima principia ponantur. Our motto is a promise to lay sound educational foundations. It has been our watchword for excellence since 1842.
