Inspiring address

By Elsie Boland GOODWOOD — The congregation of Goodwood United Church was inspired, Sunday, by the message delivered by Marion Wells of Lemonville. Using a cup and saucer as an example, Mrs Wells urged her listeners to give of kindness until the cup runneth over. Mrs Wells took over in the pulpit during the holiday absence of Rev. Edith Ann McManiman. There is no service at Goodwood this Sunday, but there's combined worship at Utica.

Mrs Tom Duggan and son visited Sunday with Les and Mary Mitchell. Euchre winners Wednesday night in the Goodwood Hall were—Doris Bell, Ethel Graham, Elsie Carter, Vic Stewart, Rita Parratt and Charlie Symes. Door prize winners were—Peggy Hood, Iva Yake, Mildred Thompson, Blanche Tindall, Eva Symes, Mary Anderson, Harold Morganson, Helen Harrison, Dot McGuckin, Fran Rate and Grace Risebrough. The next euchre is Aug. 17 at 8 p.m.

Injured player manages a smile

Third baseman Jim Grove of Stouffville manages a weak smile as he's helped onto a stretcher by ambulance personnel and firefighter Grant Turner after being injured on a slide into home plate during a slow-pitch game Sunday. Jim suffered severe concussion and whiplash. He was kept in hospital overnight for observation, then released Monday. —Jim Thomas.

The plan now includes an outdoor pool, exercise facilities, indoor whirlpool, and much more. Lobby and common areas have been designed on the theme of "Quiet Country Elegance" with forest colours. Traditional oak pegged plank floors, beams, plaster mouldings, and fireplace, are accented by contemporary furniture. Dozens of plants in pools and planters, a whispering waterfall, and a bridged brook are features in the makeup of our stunning lobby.
