Grads return for last hurrah

Our graduates were back last Friday, to reunite and celebrate the commencing of their new lives! The proceedings went well, even though they were long, and were as crowded as ever.

Hopefully, all persons involved had a good time. The relaxation and real get-together came after the ceremonies when the grads assembled at the Markham Community Centre (old Arena) for a dance.

The graduation for the Grade 12 students, who are now attending Grade 13, will be held in the front half of the girl's gymnasium. The program will begin at approximately 1:45 p.m., Wed. Nov. 16. Parents are welcome at this ceremony and will also be invited to have refreshments with the students following the program.

The annual Awards Assembly for students Grade 9 through 12 who have achieved the three-year honor standing or other such notable scholastic accomplishment, was held today in the girl's gym. Congratulations to all who received this recognition for such outstanding academic achievements.

Students attending the Grade 13 level of high school should have received their University application forms in their English class.

These should be carefully studied, com-as soon as possible. Don't forget to leave the evening free, and that you need your SAC.

Fund raising is still full-throttle as MDHS, for both the student's council and the MDHS Tour Band. The Council is selling Hershey bars in either plain milk chocolate or amazing almond-bars.

The campaign seems to be successful, but the more sold, the merrier! This campaign will run for approximately one more week.

The Tour Band is selling oranges and grapefruits to raise money for their trip to England in March. The fruit is the "finest citrus in the world", at reasonable prices, and the supplier is Sunsweet.

Place your order for this fruit now through any member of the Tour Band. Delivery will occur sometime in the first week of December. Bon appetite!

My closing note, which should always be a cheery one, is simply this. Our next holiday is the Christmas Break, which runs from December 19, through until January 1, 1984. It is a great break, with lots of time for studying, or skiing, which ever you prefer. So, the moral of this message is, hang in there, its only 27 school days until you get a well-earned 14 day holiday! Ho Ho Ho!!!

pleted, and handed in to the Guidance Office before Nov. 30, for checking. These applications are extremely important, so fill them out as soon as possible.

If there are any questions, see a counselor soon. If you wish to obtain information on certain professions and careers, use your student number, and the guidance office's career inquiry systems to find out all about it.

Still on the subject of academics, students should be receiving their mid-term reports, which are simply approximate marks, around the Nov. 21 mark.

The actual date has not been decided upon. Parent-teacher interviews can be arranged for the evening of Nov. 29, to discuss this report and any other topic.

On a happier "note", don't forget about the rapidly approaching dance on Fri. Dec 2, which is for all grades. Details are still not available for release, but I'll fill you in

Enjoy the challenge

Dear Jim:

A special thank you to the residents of Ward 4 for giving me the opportunity to serve as their elected representative on Town Council this past year.

I have certainly been busy learning new procedures. A rookie councillor has much to learn about the due process, the Municipal Act and what it allows. The Clerk, (Pat Muir), has been a tremendous help. The procedure one must follow, usually results in satisfaction to most. However, it is the time frame required to achieve these goals that is frustrating to some. It has been my task to take your concerns and requests to Council. The majority vote is always the deciding factor.

The Mayor, Council and Staff work well together as a team, in an effort to best serve the residents of Whitechurch-Stouffville. I have the highest regard for these dedicated people.

Working with the Business Improvement Area, the Museum Board, the Bylaws, Road, Sewers, Transportation and Water Committees, has presented me with opportunities to provide in-put and, along with other members, we have been able to accomplish visible changes in our community.

Budgets dictate what can be accomplished yearly. The Recreation Complex will become a reality when all the planning is in place. The entrances to Town will improve with the arrival of each new business or industry. Tree preservation and beautification are important issues.

Our Town has great community spirit. We have many talented and enthusiastic people, eager to give of their time to help make this an even better place in which to live. Everyone likes to see modest growth based on sound planning and proper land use. I believe this is in evidence throughout our Town. In my opinion, we are trying to cover all aspects to promote growth and protect the quality of life we now enjoy in Whitechurch-Stouffville. United we succeed, divided we fail.

In retrospect, I believe I have been given a liberal education, developed a conservative approach and have quietly learned to reserve judgement until all the facts are known. In committee, sometimes the going gets rough. I'm never too sure whether I've been shot up or shot down! Either way, it hurts to lose your side of the argument. However, I look forward to the challenge of my second year on Council in 1984.

Sincerely,
 Fran Sainsbury,
 Councillor Ward 4,
 Whitechurch-Stouffville

Drug bust nets Markham man

A Markham man is one of 69 persons charged in connection with the break-up of a province-wide drug network. Police have seized $1 million worth of drugs and $100,000 in stolen property during their 10-month investigation.

York Regional Police assisted in the major investigation, called Project Colours. Spear-headed by Peel Regional Police and Metro Toronto Police, with help from the Ontario Provincial Police, the investigation into cocaine, LSD, hashish, and marijuana importing and distribution throughout the province, with connections in Montreal, was conducted during the last 10 months.

Investigators and top police officials set out to smash the province-wide drug network after learning of its existence last January through two undercover drug squad detectives working the streets of Metro.

Last Wednesday (Nov. 2), members from the four forces involved made simultaneous pre-dawn raids on homes across the province.

In total, police have laid 143 charges, including conspiracy, trafficking, importing and possession of narcotics and theft and weapons charges. Warrants have also been issued for the arrests of 28 more people.

Besides $1 million worth of cocaine, LSD, hashish, and marijuana, police seized two stolen cars, two stolen motorcycles, five handguns, two sawed-off shotguns, a machine gun, four stereo systems, two microwave ovens and a video recorder system.

Charged from Markham is Ronald Livingston, of Captain Armstrong Drive.
