

Town home in diary

McLean-Hunter has published a beautiful Town and Country Home Diary in celebration of Toronto's and Ontario's bi-centennials. Its 120 pages contain 68 illustrations by John Richmond, (shown here), of R.R. 1, Claremont. One of the homes, (background), is the residence of John and Joan Middleton, 233 Second Street, Stouffville. Mr Richmond considers the diary a perfect gift for Christmas. Copies are available for $18 at John Lord's Books, 29 Main Street East, Stouffville. —Jim Thomas Getting your copy of the Economist and Sun or Tribune delivered right to your home has always made a lot of sense to most of our readers. You appreciate the convenience of having the newspaper waiting when you curl up in front of the fire on a cold winter Wednesday evening.

And because you're subscribing from the local carrier, boy or girl, you're helping a responsible youngster like yours or your neighbours' earn more.
But now, home delivery makes good economic sense, too. Effective December 1st, the price of a copy of our newspaper bought at the newsstand or from a box increases to 40¢ weekly. Home delivered subscription prices remain the same.
At only $15.60 annually, you save a whopping 25% off the newsstand price by becoming a monthly carrier-collect subscriber. Or if you prefer, save even more by making a single payment of only $13.00 each year and avoid missed carrier collections.
If you're not a home delivery subscriber already, become one today. Call the Circulation Department at the numbers below for details.
