Dining with Cal

BY CAL AVERY

Gusts of chilling, late April winds, sweep us into Le Faubourg Restaurant tonight.

Parisienne dining, when at its best, is friendly, intimate and usually pricey. All three ingredients are found at Le Faubourg. Margy, the French hostess, makes us feel it's her home rather than a dining establishment.

For that very special, intimate occasion, the soft music and candlelight are perfect and hand-holding is acceptable.

This being "National Secretary Week", I've decided to wine and dine my secretary who, by the way, is also my charming wife, Cathryn.

Following cocktails, we commence with La Bisque de homards, a delicious lobster bisque with a touch of brandy. This warming soup is followed by hors d'oeuvres Les escargots en Feuille. This translates into snails flamed with cognac, garlic butter in puff pastry—delicate, tasty, superb!

Anyone finding themselves looking over the highly impressive wine list will find it expensive but very elegant. I'd rather not mention specific brands, but tonight's selection is magnificent and suits the meal perfectly.

My main course, Le coquelet a la diable, is a plump cornish hen in a delicious devil sauce—very rich, properly cooked and very satisfying.

Cathryn's completely satisfied but I select the raspberry mousse for the grand finale and find it lip-lingering.

Casual dress here is acceptable. This adds to the romantic, relaxed atmosphere.

To the staff and chef of Le Faubourg, MERCI!

The location is south of Wellington Street, west side of Yonge in Aurora. Dinner for two, with wine, costs between fifty and sixty dollars.

Is Your Car Being Pampered With Too Much Insurance?

In these inflationary times an increased deductible on collision coverage might be easier to bear than the high monthly cost of a low deductible. If your car is older you might be wise to eliminate collision coverage altogether. Then there are often extra savings with multiple car discounts.

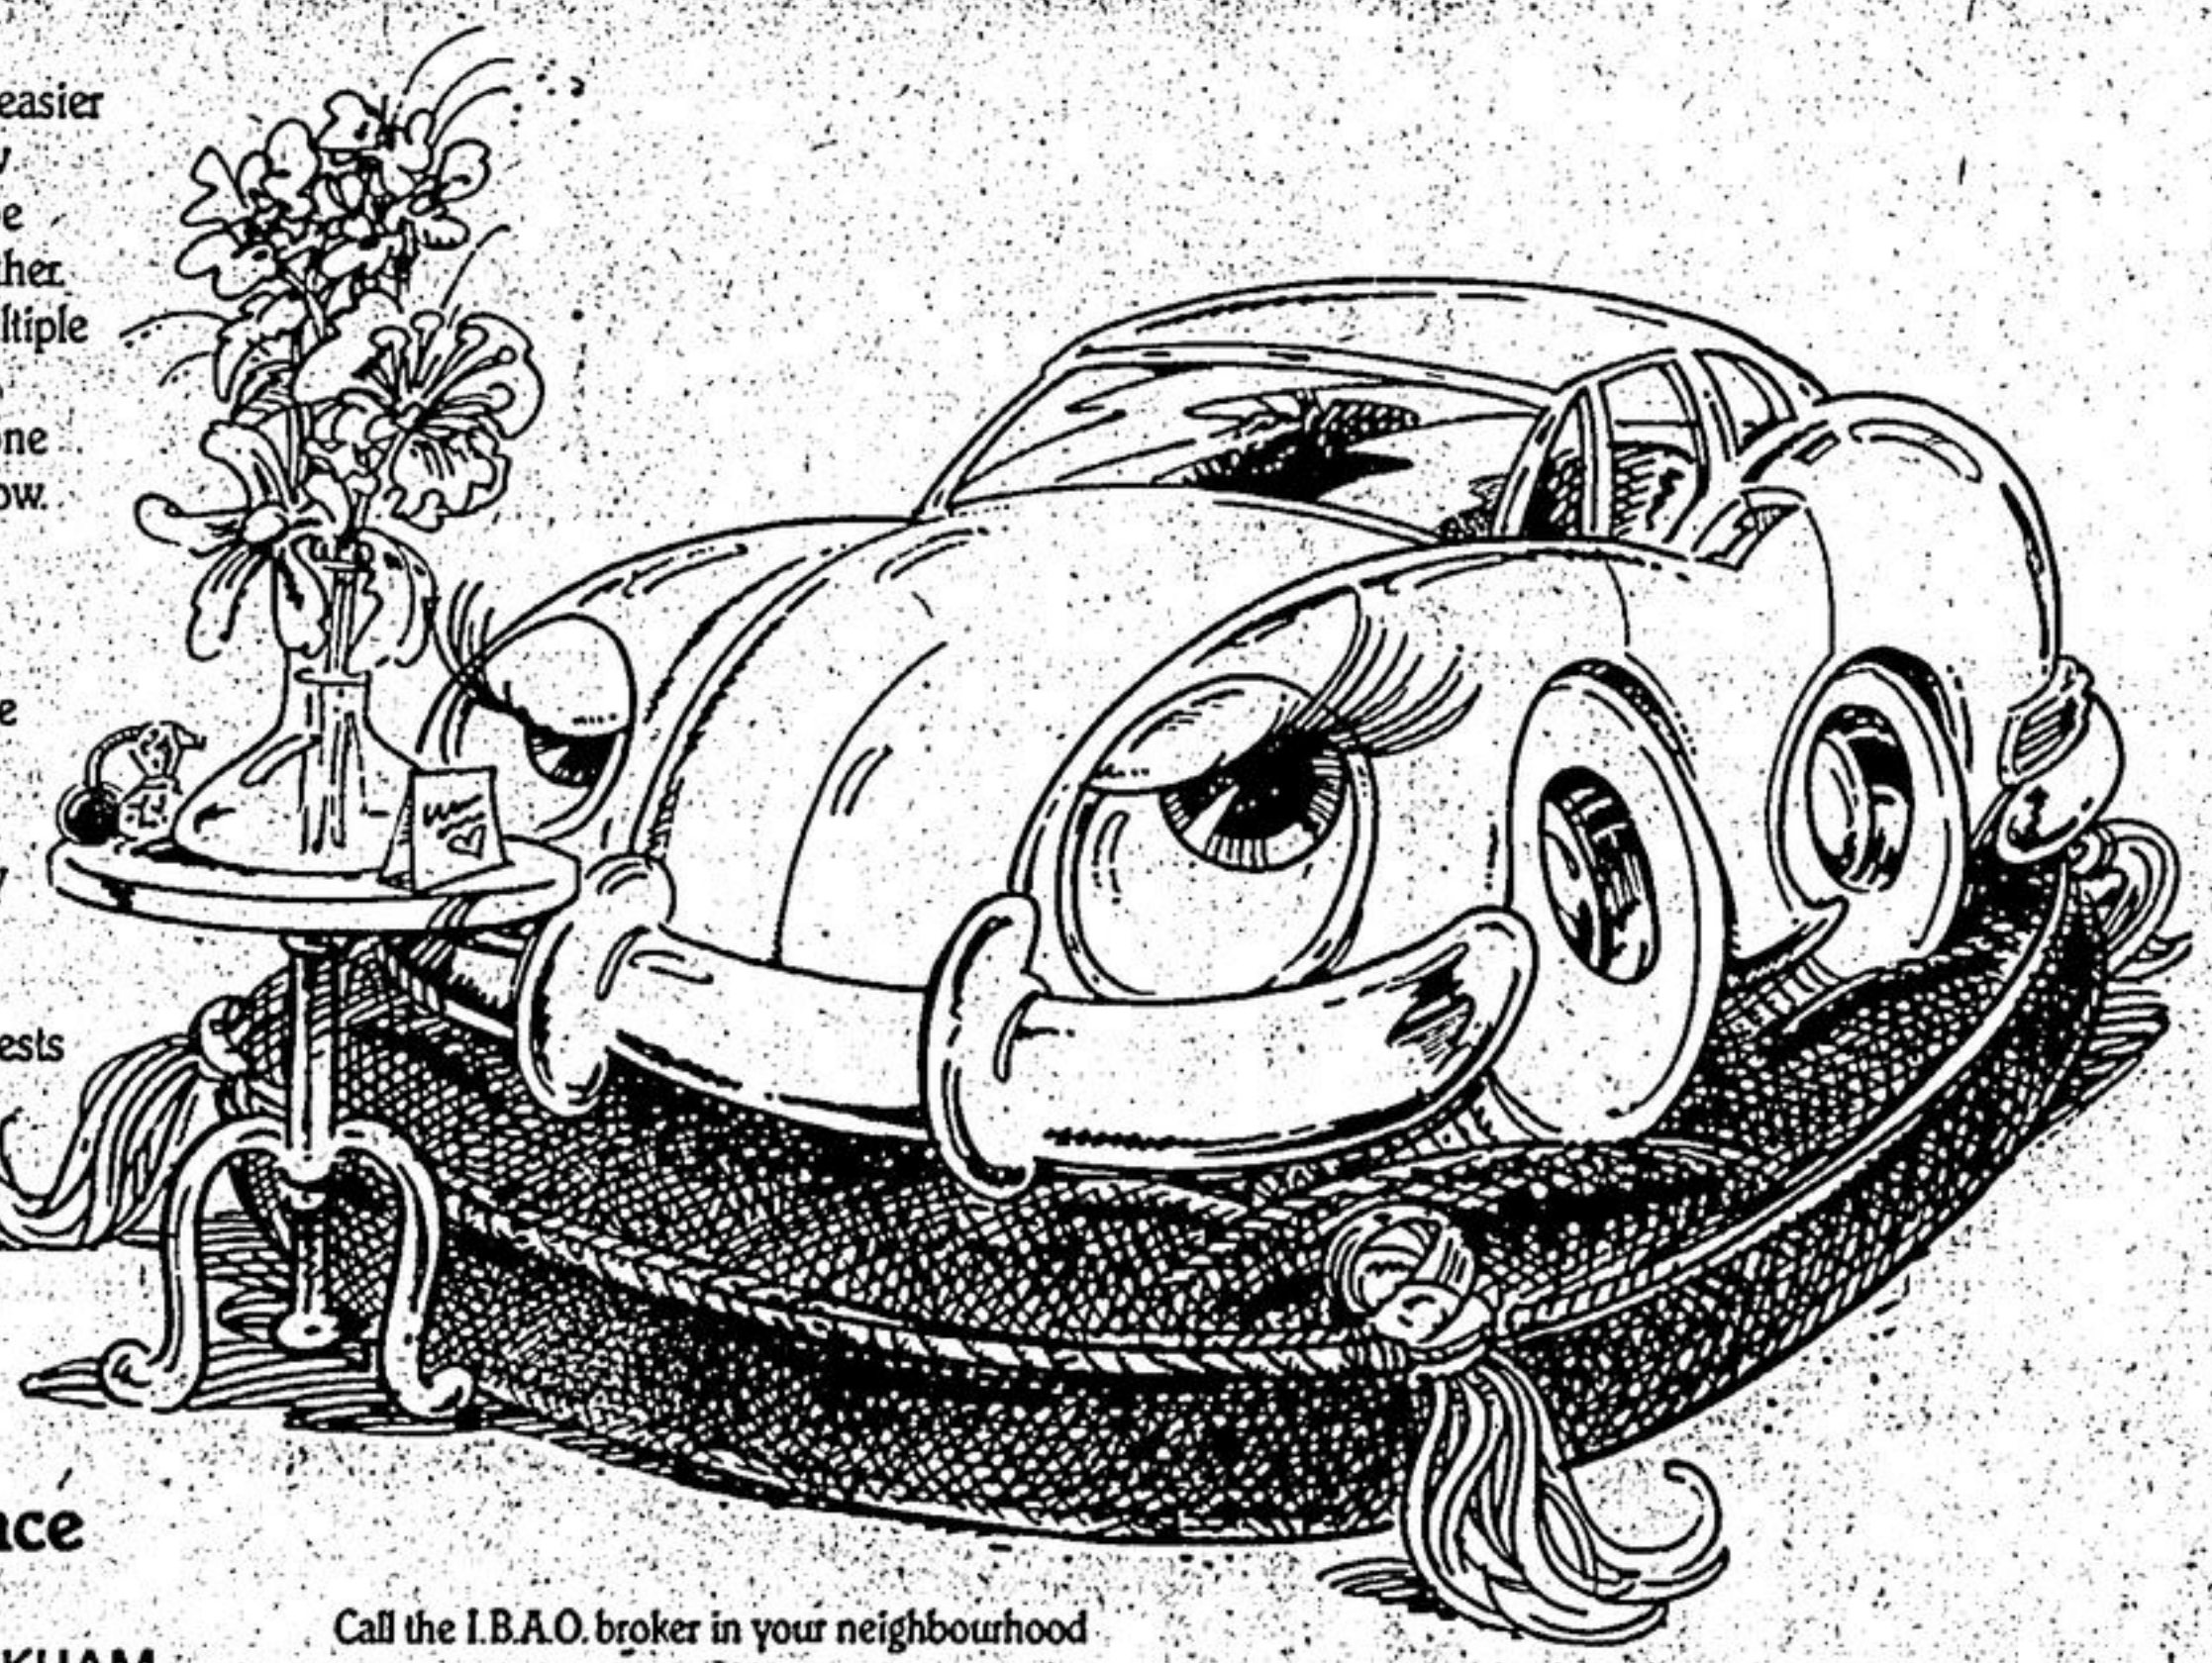

To find out where you stand talk to one of the I.B.A.O. insurance brokers listed below.

Is there a difference between an I.B.A.O. broker and an agent?

Yes there is. An agent works directly for one insurance company. An I.B.A.O. broker is independent and unbiased.

Your broker is able to choose a policy that gives you the right coverage at the right price...making sure you're not under-insured or over-insured and that your interests are well represented when you come to making a claim.

So call your broker and ask if he or she is a member of the I.B.A.O.
