

Treat pets kindly

To The Editor: The shooting incident whereby a Kennedy Road woman's cat was injured by shotgun fire, is an example of the current 'clash' between urban and rural residents.

Once upon a time, it was common practice to shoot animals that dared trespass on private properties. I believe the law is still on the side of the property owner in this regard.

However, our attitudes must change.

More and more city-oriented folk are moving into the country with more and more pets. In many instances, these pets are permitted to run at large. Be this as it may, I don't believe this is reason enough to permit every trigger-happy 'native' shooting anything that moves on four legs.

Live and let live, I say.

What possible trouble could someone's cat cause?

Sincerely,
June Curtis,

"Girl Next Door" To study in Germany

By Jim Thomas

STOUFFVILLE — When it comes to student exchange programs, Whitechurch-Stouffville has produced more than its share of goodwill ambassadors.

This practice will continue in 1985 when three young ladies travel to Germany. One of these will be 16-year-old Lori Thompson of Grade 11. Lori's the daughter of Earl and Wendy Thompson, Rupert Avenue.

Lori's our "Girl Next Door".

From April through June, Lori will attend school near the German-Swiss border, an experience she'll never forget. While German's her favorite subject, she hopes to improve on her language fluency through a live-in family arrangement.

Lori has excelled in many areas. She plays the clarinet in the Sr. Band and serves as both secretary and treasurer on the band executive. She recently tried her Grade 8 exams in piano. Teresa Kusatz is her teacher. She holds a Bronze Cross in swimming and recently received her Leader's Badge. Camping and travelling are other interests. The family has a mobile home near Algonquin Park.

Lori is a former model and may take up this profession again. Her photo has appeared in several fashion catalogues.

Following graduation, Lori hopes to go on to university, majoring in public relations or something related to travel.

This summer, she'll work as a junior computer operator in the Toronto office of Royal Insurance.

Sixteen-year-old Lori Thompson, Rupert Avenue, Stouffville, is a Grade 11 student at S.D.S.S. Next spring, she'll spend three months at a school on the Swiss-German border, part of an exchange program that will bring a German girl here in September.

Are we not wanted?

To The Editor: I appreciate very much receiving The Tribune each week, mainly for the auction sales.

This week, however, I read with interest the comments concerning the famous Flea Market in Stouffville and the decision to open Sundays.

Are we people from Metro Toronto "bad news" to the people of Stouffville? Do the people of Stouffville resent cars on their Main Street? Is the only business carried on in Stouffville on Sundays, 'church business'? Do the people of Stouffville not 'clutter up' the Main Streets of other towns on the Sabbath. Do the people of Stouffville not attend attractions, (ball games, hockey games, picnics, etc.) in other communities?

Rather than act so resentful of our presence in your town, I'd think you'd welcome us with open arms.

Money, on a Sunday, can sometimes be put to (good) uses other than on offering plates.

Sincerely,
Ferdinand Bernsen,
Eglinton Avenue East,
Scarborough.
