

Sept. 1 — what a party!

Pleasure

Dear Mr Thomas:
Several summers ago, I can remember when it wasn't pleasant or even safe to walk through the Stouffville park on a summer evening.
Young people were congregated there, drinking beer and dear knows what else. Foul language and smart remarks greeted every woman or girl who dared take that route. The park was nothing but a hang-out for young hoodlums with nothing better to do than to sit around and hurl insults at passers-by.
Fortunately, all this has changed. Our park is once again the people place it was meant to be. There are young folks there, that's sure, but they're playing tennis, softball; all having fun—real decent kids.
I'm not sure who's responsible. Regardless, through your paper, I wish to say thanks.
(Mrs) Estelle Simpson

If you haven't yet purchased your ticket for the Cabbage Patch Kids' Birthday Party, you'd better act soon. There are not many left. They're available at The Tribune Office, Stouffville; Mr Grocer, Crothers Pharmacy, Cotton Battin, the Markham-Stouffville Hospital Office and the Markham Economist and Sun.

The day, (Sept. 1), is certain to be a lot of fun. A double-decker bus will provide trips around Markham Fairgrounds and there will be pony rides, courtesy Lionel's Pony Farm, McCowan Road.

Children's games are being organized by the Optimist Club of Markham with prizes donated by The Children's Book Centre, the Town of Markham, M.P.P. Don Cousens, Green Gables Books, Chesebrough Pond's Ltd., the Milk Board and the Bi-Centennial Committee. Children's movies will be shown continuously.

The Markham Photo Centre will take pictures of boys and girls and their Cabbage Patch Kids. The setting will be a beautiful birthday cake created by Jennie Mann from Jennie's World of Cakes. The cost per picture is $2.50. A coin-toss fountain is being donated by Weall and Cullen Barns of Milliken.

Door prizes will include two Cabbage Patch Dolls from McDonald's; puzzles from Parker Brothers and a birthday party at Mothers.

The big event will begin at 1 p.m. and conclude at four. Tickets are only one dollar with proceeds going to the Markham-Stouffville Hospital Building Fund. All children MUST be accompanied by an adult.

A Cabbage Patch Kids Party will be held at Markham Fairgrounds, Sat., Sept. 1. A limit of 2,000 children can be accommodated. Mary Webster, (right), a party organizer, is shown here with Judy Jones, 51 Walkerton Drive, Markham and Judy's 17-month-old daughter Christine with baby "Audrey Glenna". Mary holds "Michael Jackson".

Nine-year-old Wendy Lee, daughter of Randy and Barbara Lee, Millard Street, Stouffville, plans to attend the Cabbage Patch Kids Party, Sept. 1. Wendy will be accompanied by "Melissa" and "Rose". Due to a shortage of Cabbage Patch Dolls, replacements are acceptable. Admission is $1.00 with tickets available at The Tribune.
